"TAX PAYERS" CONVENTION.

Re-Nominate Fechter for Mayor for a Sixth Term. A Full Ticket. Named.

The 24 delegates who had been selected at the different caucuses of the three wards of this city held on the evening of the 21st, met Saturday evening at the city hall to discharge their duty of nominating a ticket to be voted upon at the municipal election to be held Tuesday, Dec. 2. There were no proxies as all the delegates were on hand.

The meeting was called to order by Geo. Donald, a delegate from the second ward. Mr. Donald called for nominations for chairman and B. F. Barge was unanimously selected to fill that position. That gentleman then took the gavel and in a brief speech announced the object of the meeting. Z. Y. Coleman was then elected secretary and at the suggestion of the chairman, committees on credential and order of business were appointed. The convention agreed that the vote of each ward delegation should be announced by the chairman and that a majority of 13 votes, be required to nominate. At this point, Chairman Barge asked what was the will of the convention in regard to nominating any candidates whose names were upon the "citizens ticket." Geo. Donald secured the floor and moved that a "clean sheet" be made which sentiment was unanimously endorsed by the delegates.

The name of O. A. Fechter was the only one presented for mayor and the present incumbent of that office was nominated by acclamation.

For the nomination of city clerk, there was a considerable contest and it took three ballots to decide the matter. The candidates were, J. W. Sindall, J. R. Cleaver, L. R. Delle and F. G. Drew. Mr. Drew secured a majority on the third ballot and was declared the nominee.

For city treasurer, Frank Bartholet was named by acclamation. The nomination of John J. Rudkin for the office of city attorney and Dr. J. B. Burns for health officer, were made in the same manner.

For councilman-at-large Geo. R. Wise, of the third ward, received the nomination unanimously as did all the others nominated for the council. P. Y. Heckman was selected as councilman from the first ward, Michael Schorn from the second and Robert Scott from the third.

The chairman then called for motions as to the naming of the ticket and A. B. Weed moved that it be filed as the "Taxpayers Ticket" and it was so ordered. No further business appearing, the convention adjourned.

Bond Proposal Defeated.

The special election held Saturday to vote on the proposition of issuing additional bonds in the sum of $15000, with which to build and equip several frame school buildings in this city, was defeated by a vote of 74 to 47.

The result of the election was a complete surprise to the members of the board and citizens generally who favored the board's proposal. It had been generally assumed that the proposition would carry, hands down, otherwise the result might have been different.

As it is imperative that something be done to relieve the congested condition of the city schools there is now a good deal of regret expressed at the result of the election. If any of those opposed to the bond issue have any better plan to propose, the board would like to hear it.

Conditions in The East.

W. N. Granger, manager of the Washington Irrigation company, who recently returned from a visit to the east, says that everywhere he went he found much interest manifested in the state of Washington and the Yakima valley particularly. From what he heard he concludes that there will be a large immigration of well-to-do people to Washington from many parts of the east between now and spring.

Speaking of the political conditions as he found them in most sections of the east, Mr. Granger says that he was impressed with the fact that under the present conditions no party has a cinch on many of the states of the east, particularly New York and neighboring states. Dissatisfaction with the policy of the party in power seems to be steadily growing in that section and in the opinion of some of the shrewdest politicians, New York, New Jersey and even some of the New England states will be debatable ground in 1904.

In fact, said Mr. Granger, if President Roosevelt had not thrown himself into the breach and succeeded just in the nick of time in settling the great coal strike the republicans would have met a crushing defeat in unlooked for places. Mr. Granger naturally feels somewhat elated over the election of his cousin, Mr. Thomas N. Granger, to congress from the state of Rhode Island. Mr. Granger was elected on the democratic ticket, securing a plurality of over 1000 in a strong republican district. Mr. Granger for a number of years has been mayor of the city of Providence.

FOR A NEW COUNTY.

Prosser Board of Trade Opens the Campaign for Division of Yakima County.

The Prosser Board of Trade recently appointed a committee consisting of F. H. Gloyd, E. W. R. Taylor, I. E. Moore and W. H. Brownlow, to visit Sunnyside and invite the people of that town to co-operate with the people of Prosser and of the "east end" in the effort to create a new county.

In response to the invitation extended, a number of leading citizens of Sunnyside have called a public meeting of the tax payers of Sunnyside precinct to meet at Odd fellows hall in that town at 10 A. M. Wednesday Dec. 3. The object of this meeting is to discuss the question whether or not Sunnyside desires to remain in the present county or join in the movement to establish a new county.

The decision of the people of Sunnyside, it is said, will determine the attitude of the divisionists as to where the proposed boundary line shall be. The Sun, of that town, in discussing the matter editorially, intimates that the people of that community will not consent to be placed upon the border of either county. So the inference is quite plain that if Sunnyside votes to cast her lot with the "east end" people that such action will be synonymous with the establishment of a boundary line but a short distance east of the town of Zillah. In case that Sunnyside should vote to remain in Yakima county, it is said, the boundary will be drawn across the east line of Sunnyside precinct.

A determined effort is to be made, it seems, at the approaching session of the legislature to divide Yakima county. S. A. Wells, a republican member of the legislature from Spokane county, who is reported to have considerable property interests at Prosser, will, it is understood, introduce the division bill in the legislature and have charge of the fight.

City Real Estate Active.

The past 10 days has seen an unusual amount of activity in real estate, particularly business property.

The latter part of last week Dr. R. N. Gordon purchased the Libby building on Yakima avenue, which was formerly known as the L. X. L. property. The price paid was $14,000.

On Monday a party representing Miss Mary Mullen, a wealthy lady of Butte, Mont., through the real estate firm of McCrimmon & Needham, purchased from S. J. Lowe the two lots at the corner of Yakima avenue and First street, the consideration being $12,500. It is understood that the purchaser on the expiration of the lease on the property will erect a handsome business house thereon. This is regarded as one of the best business corners in the city.

The same day that the above deal was consummated, the well known liquor firm of Kellogg & Ford purchased from J. H. Lasswell five lots in block 11, fronting on south First street, the price paid being $10,000. Mr. Lasswell, it might be remarked in passing, paid the sum of $4,800 for the same property when he bought it about a year ago. It is presumed that the purchasers will erect a good substantial building on a part of the property and re-embark in the saloon business.

On Wednesday J. H. Lasswell purchased the Syndicate block, in which the post office is located, paying therefor the sum of $12,500. This is considered an extremely good bargain by all persons familiar with city values. The sale was made through Fletcher & Janeck.

Phones for the Farmers.

At the meeting of the Fruit Growers' union last Saturday the matter of telephone connection for members received special attention. H. M. Gilbert addressed the meeting on the subject and urged the desirability of having a phone in the home of every member and gave numerous instances of the value of telephone connection to the farmer.

Mr. Gilbert stated that the Sunnyside Co-operative Telephone company had now completed its line as far as Parker and was desirous of extending its service above Union Gap. The cost of the line to subscribers he explained, is $50. This entitles the subscribers to one share of stock and gives him the service at a cost of $3 per year, which is the amount presumed to cover the cost of maintenance. The holder has the privilege of selling his stock at any time to any person who is not already a subscriber.

The Union passed a resolution favoring the extension of the line into the upper valley and a number of members individually subscribed for shares of the stock.

Don't Make a Mistake.

Many people make mistakes that cause them regrets through life. If you intend to follow a business career, you can make no greater mistake than by enrolling in the wrong school. While you are getting a business education, you don't want to waste any time. You want to get through as soon as you can and not slight your work. That is just what our students do. They are directed by the best instructors, each a specialist in his line. They are pushed as rapidly as their capabilities will permit, and no work slighted, but every part of each course is thoroughly gone over.

There is a position awaiting a student who has thoroughly and conscientiously completed the short-hand or book-keeping courses. There never has been a time in our history that we were able to fill the demand for help. If you want a position as soon as you are through a course; if you want your work, while completing a course, to be pleasant and agreeable, this school is the place for you.

Our catalogue gives you information which you should have. It is free for the asking.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA.

THERE seems to be a growing feeling of inharmonious within the republican party of the south or what there is left of it. The row seems to have started as the result of the action taken during the past year in a number of southern states, notably Alabama and North Carolina to eliminate the negro from politics on the part of the faction known as "Lilly Whites." The white republicans of the south generally seem to have grown weary of working in conjunction with the negroes and show a marked disposition to shake their colored brethren off. At a late convention held in Alabama negro delegates were denied admission and even forcibly ejected.

The angry colored politicians through Booker Washington and other leading men of their race, appealed the case to President Roosevelt and succeeded in inducing that great functionary to view the matter from their standpoint. Roosevelt caused an investigation to be made and finding that a number of federal officials in Alabama had taken a prominent part in excommunicating the blacks, he lost no time in lopping off their official heads. Moreover, the president served notice, says the St. Louis Republic, on white officials in several other states that if they in any way interfered with the political rights of the blacks that he would use his ax unsparringly upon them.

"Teddy's" ultimatum has caused indignation as well as consternation among the white republicans of the south and there is plenty of evidence to indicate that rebellion is brewing among the "Lilly Whites" against the executive mandate. Threats are being openly made that delegates will be sent to the national convention in 1904 from that section who will oppose Roosevelt's nomination and support the candidacy of Mark Hanna. Indeed, there is good reason to believe that the flame of discontent is being systematically, though secretly fanned by Hanna and his lieutenants in the hope of clipping the wings of the rough rider president in the states of the south.

The "Lilly Whites" attempt to justify their rather arrogant treatment of the negroes on the ground that they cannot hope to divide the solid south as long as their party is handicapped with negro support. The white people of the south, they say, angrily resent the suggestion of negro government over them and will continue to defeat any party that stands for such a thing.

Frank G. Carpenter, the well known traveler, is now in France where he has been engaged in a systematic study of the method of the French farmers. His letters to a syndicate of American papers on this subject are highly interesting.

The French peasants, says Mr. Carpenter, are the most systematic and prosperous farmers on the globe and are as far ahead of the Americans in most all branches of agriculture as our methods are better than those of the Filipino. Americans talk, he says, of having worn out their land, while the Frenchmen go on raising bounteous crops from land that has been tilled regularly for hundreds of years. This is because the latter understands his soil and feeds it what it needs, a fact that leads the writer to observe that "old mother earth has all the possibilities of perpetual youth, but coquette that she is, she must be fed with the dainties she loves and petted in order to be induced to put forth her best efforts."

The French farmer allows nothing to go to waste and produces from two to three crops per year from his land. He finds the best markets too, and his competition has virtually driven the small English farmers out of their own markets.

Paris may be the glory of France, concludes Mr. Carpenter, but her peasant farmers are her main reliance. It was this class that paid the immense war indemnity demanded by Germany, of nearly two billion dollars, when Paris and commercial France were helpless at the enemy's feet.

If the Oregonian objected so strenuously to Addison G. Foster as U. S. Senator, a short time ago, how can it reconcile its present support of Levi Ankeny for the same position? They are both successful business men, but neither have shown any striking evidences of statesmanship, and there is nothing to show that the latter gentleman will develop any better qualifications in that service than the man it characterized as a "mere lay figure," a "paw in the game," whose position is "trivial and pitiful," possessing as he does "no qualification for the position."—Olympia Standard.

The indications at the present time point strongly to the election of Levi Ankeny to the U. S. senate as the successor of the Hon. George Turner, Preston, of Seattle, appears to be the only candidate against him who is able to muster any considerable amount of strength. The latter is said to have the support of the delegation from his own county, but that support, under the circumstances, is rather an element of weakness than strength for the reason that the Preston candidacy is thus made to stand for the well known spirit of hoggishness that has characterized the Seattle politicians since the beginning of statehood. It is the constant exhibition of this mean spirit that has caused a number of other communities in the state to ally themselves together and make common cause against Seattle. While the people of the state are proud of their metropolis they haven't much use for the cheap and selfish politicians that Seattle is constantly putting forward to represent her. This feeling is still strong enough to spoil the chances of any Seattle man for the senatorship. So much for Mr. Preston.

According to established precedents, and we might add, the demands of justice, Eastern Washington is entitled to name the next senator. For the Sound country to take the office in addition to the other senator and two of the three representatives, which it now has, would be rank injustice, which, we believe, the people living east of the Cascades would be apt to resent.

It is extremely unfortunate however, that the republicans of Eastern Washington have no candidates to offer, save those two timeworn political chestnuts, Levi Ankeny and John L. Wilson, neither of whom are satisfactory to anybody except their own personal henchmen. To choose either to sit in the high place occupied by a statesman of the mould of George Turner, is not only absurd but it seems like sacrilege.

But Ankeny, it seems, is destined to wear the toga. Poor old man! He will feel as lonely and impotent in its encircling fold as would a blanket Indian at a masquerade ball.

"BOB" WOMACK, the man who discovered gold at Cripple Creek, the finest mining camp ever known on the American continent, according to a Denver paper, is now employed as a "washer" in a cheap boarding house at Colorado Springs. Stratton, the multimillionaire, who died recently, made his vast fortune at Cripple Creek and was let in on the ground floor by WOMACK.

With all the difference in their luck, or whatever it might be called, WOMACK was the happier man of the two. He is a happy-go-lucky, good natured fellow, whose life has not been soured because of the fact that he permitted a princely fortune to slip through his fingers. On the other hand, the millions secured by the grasping Stratton really proved a curse to him for the excesses that he indulged in brought him to the grave probably before his time. His vast estate is now a bone of contention in court.

After all, who is there who will not agree that WOMACK was not the better, happier and more useful man of the two.

WHILE all true friends of Mr. Hearst will rejoice in his election to Congress, for the wise use he has made of his great wealth in directing the course of his three great newspapers for promoting the interests of the people, they were scarcely prepared for the suggestion made by some of his "fool" friends that he be nominated for President in 1904. While the gentleman has manifested the possession of much common sense and manhood, in directing his great enterprises through others, he has not shown any of that marked indication of individual capacity which should be possessed by anybody named for Chief Executive. He is now in a position, however, if he possesses statesmanship, where he can make it manifest.—Olympia Standard.

SHREWD political observers inform the DEMOCRAT that Gov. McBride's railway commission bill will never succeed in reaching a vote in the state senate this winter. They say that the cards are already stacked against the governor in the organization of that body and that not only a majority of republican senators, but a majority of all the senators are hostile to the commission bill and that it will be strangled to death in committee.

Of the nine democratic senators, eight are expected to vote for the commission bill. The exception being Moore, of King county, who in his zeal to be elected allowed the lobbyists to place strings upon him.

An analysis of the vote for members of the legislature at the recent election, shows that 50 republicans have been elected to that body who managed to slip in by a plurality of less than 50 votes.

It will thus be seen that the republicans had no such a walk away as they thought they had. These figures also show how unmistakably strong Senator George Farnier is with the people of this state.

The DEMOCRAT does not profess to be a prophet, but we make the prediction right now that if Turner lives the state of Washington will send him back again to the senate of the United States.

A. J. SHAW, candidate for mayor on the Citizens ticket, states that he has made no secret pledges of what he will or will not do, if elected mayor.

Mr. Shaw says that the authority conferred upon the mayor of North Yakima by the city charter is limited almost entirely to the performance of certain perfunctory duties and that if he be elected he will abide by the decision of the seven men who compose the next city council. Whatever the decision of that body may be as to the best policy of governing the city, Mr. Shaw says that he will co-operate with the council and endeavor to work harmoniously with it for the best interests of the city and its upbuilding.

The DEMOCRAT believes that Candidate Shaw is right in taking this position and that any other construction of the mayor's duties, under the charter, is untenable. That instrument confers the real authority and responsibility for the government of the city upon the common council and not upon the mayor. Incidents of the first and second class larger powers are vested in the mayor's office, but it should be remembered that North Yakima is a city of the third class.

This paper has no quarrel with Mayor Fechter, whom it has invariably supported. In the main, we think that he has made a splendid official, but we are equally sure that he has in numerous instances over-stepped the authority of his office and usurped functions that belong only to the city council.

This paper is not in sympathy with law breaking of any kind, although we recognize the fact that the better policy in governing a western town is on a practical rather than on a theoretical or puritanical basis. The point that we wish to make is simply this, that the control or regulation of any social evil in this city is a matter entirely within the province of the city council.

It is for that body to decide, after it has heard from the people, whether this shall be a "wide open" or a "closed town."

THE DEMOCRAT cannot see that the Republic is warranted in its assumption that the election of the Citizens Ticket means a "wide open town." The convention that nominated it made no such declaration and it was composed of a goodly number of men who oppose that policy.

The DEMOCRAT has interviewed the most of the candidates on the Citizens ticket and has learned that the men who are making the race on that ticket do not assume that such is the case. They are all reasonable, safe men and, if elected, will do nothing that would in their own judgment conflict with the best interests of the people.

In other words the candidates on the Citizens ticket, while not pledged for either an "open" or a "closed" town, promise to act discreetly and the DEMOCRAT has faith enough in them to believe that they will follow that course.

HERR KRUPP, the great German cannon maker who died last week, worth an 100 million dollars, started in life a poor boy blowings the bellows in the blacksmith shop of his father. While an autocrat, Herr Krupp was also a good deal of a socialist in the treatment of his 30,000 employees. He built good houses for them to live in and saw to it that no privation existed among them. In the treatment of his army of workmen he was inclined to be socialistic in every thing except the wage system which he steadfastly refused to abandon.

In the funeral procession the emperor, himself, walked with uncovered head to testify to his appreciation of the splendid character of his late subject.

The so called "tax payers" convention, held at the city hall last Saturday night, performed its work expeditiously and adjourned. It did its work so expeditiously, in fact, that the whole proceedings was rather suggestive of a "cut and dried" program which was probably agreed upon in advance by three or four of the leading spirits in the movement. The convention, however, placed before the people the names of a number of very good men to be voted upon at the coming municipal election.

The three legislators from this county will doubtless do everything in their power to secure the necessary appropriation at the ensuing session with which to complete the wagon road over the Cascades. This is a meritorious piece of work and the people of Yakima county are vitally interested in the building of that road. It would give us access to our mines at Gold Hill and its value to the people of this valley could not be computed alone in dollars and cents.

The "huge joke" perpetrated by a local contemporary in a scathing criticism published this week of the actors in the "Belshazzar" cantata, is not so much of a joke, apparently, to some of those who were flayed. But probably the "kickers" are English and don't see the fine point in the Herald's coarse joke.

The Republic says that Jack Shaw is not a big enough man to be mayor of this city. Ah! Seems like we heard that sentiment expressed before when Jack Splawn was running for senator. Surely, Candidate Fechter has reason to exclaim, "deliver me from my friends."

The president secured no bear meat for his Thanksgiving dinner during his late hunt in Mississippi. The bears had evidently heard of "Teddy, the terror," and took to the woods at his approach.

Executors Sale.

The executors of the White estate on the 3rd day of December, will sell at the White ranch in Wide Hollow, four miles west of North Yakima, 32 head of dairy stock, consisting of cows, calves and bulls. Also two head of horses and two brood sows. This herd of dairy cattle is one of the best in Yakima county, being nearly all high bred Jerseys. Sale will be by auction for cash or approved notes. Best Liniment on Earth.

I. M. McHany, Greenville, Texas, writes, Nov. 2d, 1900: "I had rheumatism last winter, was down in bed six weeks; tried everything, but got no relief, till a friend gave me a part of a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment. I used it, and got two more bottles. I cured me and I haven't felt any rheumatism since. I can recommend Snow Liniment to be the best liniment on earth for rheumatism." For rheumatic, sciatic, or neuralgic pains, rub in Ballard's Snow Liniment, you will not suffer long, but will be gratified with a speedy and effective cure. 25c, 50c and $1.00 at Fred L. Janek.

Thomas Jefferson
"Rip Van Winkle."

On Dec. 1st Thomas Jefferson will again be seen at Larson's Theatre in "Rip Van Winkle," a play in which he has uncommon success and in which he is seen to excellent advantage.

Thomas Jefferson, like his famous father, is an actor who loves his art as he loves nature, and on no occasion has he parted from legitimate means to win popularity. His impersonation of the noted "Rip" is modeled on correct lines and runs successfully the entire gamut of the emotions. It can truthfully be said that Thomas Jefferson is one of the most attractive actors now on the American stage. His Rip Van Winkle is an interesting, picturesque and vivid portrayal of that famous role. He won the hearts of our people when here a year ago and his coming engagement is sure to bring out a fine audience.

Notice to Contractors.

Notice is hereby given that the city of North Yakima will let a contract to improve FIRST street in the City of North Yakima, between the north line of A street to the south line of E street, in said city by the construction of a sidewalk on the west side of said First street, said sidewalk to be eight feet wide, and to be laid with planks two inches thick and eight inches wide, surfaced on one side, resting on three stringers four inches by six inches, said planks to be laid surface side up; all material used to be No. 1, good, common fir lumber; said sidewalk to be laid on the grade marked out and in all respects in accordance with the plans, specifications, details, drawings and grade and notes of the city engineer relating thereto, which are now on file and of record in the office of the city clerk, subject to the inspection of all persons interested.

Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the city clerk of said city. Sealed proposals for the contract for the above proposed improvement will be received by the city clerk up to the time the bids are opened, to-wit: on Dec. 1, 1902, at 7:30 o'clock p. m. All bidders will be required to deposit with their bids a certified check for $100.00 in some bank in the city of North Yakima, payable to the order of the city treasurer, as security that said bidder will enter into a contract with said city in conformity with the plans and specifications, and give a bond with approved sureties, as required by laws of 1897, page 57, within three days after notice from the city clerk that the contract has been awarded to him. The city council reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

A Sensation in Pickle.

The Spokesman-Review of the date of Nov. 27th, contains a very racy article which concerns a Methodist minister, Rev. C. D. Nickelson, of Colfax and a popular lady of this city, who but a short time ago removed to this place with her husband from Goldendale, where the minister also formerly resided.

According to the Review, the minister both wrote and telegraphed the lady to meet him at the Pacific hotel, Spokane, but she declined. The love-crazed minister then wrote from Spokane that if she did not come immediately he would kill himself by jumping from the Monroe street bridge.

The troubled lady then confided in her attorneys, McAulay & Meigs. They advised her to wire the distracted man that she would come, and then to send one of themselves insuring. This was done and Mr. Meigs went to Spokane, and after some trouble, found the minister and succeeded in persuading him not to do any thing rash. Mr. Meigs, in fact, was so successful in his mission that the love-lorn preacher was induced to return to his wife and children.

Mr. McAulay, when seen by the DEMOCRAT reporter Friday, stated that the Review article was very much overdrawn and intimated that his client's attentions and also desired to avoid publicity in the matter.

A Republican Scarecrow.

In an interview printed in the Chicago Record-Herald, Governor Cummins, republican of Iowa, referring to the prediction that terrible results would come from tariff agitation, said: "That is a scare crow set up in the corn fields. It is a device always resorted to by those who want the tariff treated as a sacred fetish. The menace to this country today is not tariff change, but the temptations to reckless stock watering, which avaricious men find in their ability to create monopolies in production. We cannot avert disaster by falling on our knees and worshipping a tariff schedule. The truth is that men who are enjoying the fruits of monopoly are daily laughing in their sleeves at the fatuity with which the people permit them to plunder under the form of law.

Lime.

Lime applied to the soil is supposed to liberate plant food, mostly potash. If no indications of benefit from its use are noticed, the soil is supposed to be deficient in potash.

Lime should be used for its physical effect on the soil, ameliorating it, correcting excessive acidity and permitting the air to penetrate more thoroughly.

Lime should not be mixed with manures, but applied separately in early spring.—Horticulturist.

Hearst For President.

It is said that the advent of William R. Hearst, the brilliant young newspaper man of New York into the next Congress will be used by him as a stepping stone to the democratic nomination for the Presidency in 1904. It will be conceded that Mr. Hearst's nomination would be immensely popular with the laboring people of the country—for his syndicate of papers has always been an active champion of the rights of labor.—Seattle Times.

Ordinance No. 339.

An ordinance granting unto Joseph F. McNaught, his successors and assigns, the right, privilege and franchise of building, constructing, maintaining and operating upon the streets, avenues and thoroughfares of the city of North Yakima, a system of railroads, whereto to transport passengers, freight, mail and express, and to charge and receive tolls therefor.

The city council of the city of North Yakima do ordain as follows:

SECTION 1. That there be and is hereby granted unto Joseph F. McNaught, his successors and assigns, the right, franchise and privilege of entering upon the streets, avenues and thoroughfares of the city of North Yakima, and building, constructing, maintaining and operating a system of railroads thereon, and to carry and transport upon said railroads passengers, freight, mail and express, and to charge and receive tolls, and compensation therefor.

SEC. 2. This ordinance shall not be construed as granting the right to enter upon, build or construct a railway line upon Yakima avenue, nor upon Natches avenue, but the right is hereby given and granted to construct, maintain and operate said railroads upon any other streets within the corporate limits of the city of North Yakima.

SEC. 3. That if the said Joseph F. McNaught, his successors or assigns, fail to construct the railroads herein mentioned, or any part thereof, by the 1st day of November, 1905, then as to all streets not occupied by him or them and upon which he has failed to construct and operate such railroads, this ordinance shall become null and void, and he shall only be entitled to the right to maintain and operate railroads upon the streets upon which he shall build and operate such railroads within said period.

SEC. 4. The intention of this ordinance is to grant to the said Joseph F. McNaught, his successors or assigns, the right to construct, equip, maintain and operate a street car system for the city of North Yakima, and also to construct, equip, maintain and operate a system of suburban roads as follows:

A line from the city of North Yakima to the town of Sunnyside.

A line from the city of North Yakima to Yakima Mineral Springs.

A line from the city of North Yakima to the farm of Fechter & Jancek, in the upper Natches valley.

And a line from the city of North Yakima to some point in the Cowlitz valley, to be hereafter determined.

And the right, privilege and franchise is hereby granted to build, equip, maintain and operate a street railway system, as well as the right to bring said suburban lines into the city of North Yakima upon such streets as he may find proper, expedient or convenient, save and except Natches avenue and Yakima avenue.

SEC. 5. That said Joseph F. McNaught, his successors or assigns, shall operate said system of railroads by electric power, and shall have the right to use steam power during the construction and until the electric power shall have been installed, which shall not be later than November 1st, 1905, and in conjunction therewith thereafter.

SEC. 6. The said Joseph F. McNaught, his successors or assigns, in building or constructing any railroad or railroads under this ordinance, shall conform to the street grades established or to be established by the city of North Yakima, and he and his successors and assigns shall construct and maintain safe, suitable and proper crossings, constructed of heavy plank, upon such tracks at all street intersections; and if so required by the city council said crossings shall be the full width of the street from curb to curb; and he shall in all cases leave all streets in as good condition as he finds them, and he shall not prevent travel upon said streets while building such roads. The said streets shall not be used for the storage of cars.

SEC. 7. Whenever the said Joseph F. McNaught, his successors or assigns, shall notify the city council of the city of North Yakima of his intention to construct any railroad upon any of the streets authorized by this ordinance, the city of North Yakima shall, through its city engineer, immediately establish a grade upon such street, if not already established prior to said date.

SEC. 8. That the rights, privileges and franchise hereby granted shall continue for the period of fifty years from the date of the passage and approval of this ordinance, at which time the same shall expire.

SEC. 9. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after five days after its passage, approval and publication.

Passed the council November 19, 1902.

Attest: O. A. FECHTER, Mayor.
H. B. DOUST, City Clerk.

Money in Hogs.

Does it pay to fatten hogs on grain? Mr. J. A. Kushi, living one mile and a half east of Sunnyside, has a large herd of swine grown on alfalfa. At the high price of grain he was undecided whether to fatten the hogs or sell them for stock. One week ago he weighed two shoats and put them in a pen and fed them wheat chop soaked—all they could eat. When they were put in they weighed 114 and 100 pounds respectively. Seven later days they weighed out 134 and 129 respectively. During this time they were fed 98 lbs. and made a total gain of 40 lbs. or two fifths pork for every pound of feed, or for $1.15 worth of grain he produced $2.20 worth of pork. There is probably no kind of stock that will yield better returns than swine wisely handled.—Sunnyside Sun.

Mr. Shaw's Scheme.

Mr. Shaw's scheme of loaning the banks government money without interest to loan to the people at heavy rates of interest in order that the people may obtain money wherewith to pay their taxes and thus make it possible for Mr. Shaw to have a surplus that may be loaned to the banks—Mr. Shaw's scheme, as before mentioned, somehow or other recalls the story of the little boy.

"I hate to take medicine," said the little boy, "but I take it without a kick because mamma gives me a nickel every time."

"What do you do with your money?" asked the visitor.

"I put it in my little iron bank."

"What are you going to do when the bank is full?"

"O, mamma attends to that. When the bank is about full I've used up all the medicine, then mamma empties the bank and I takes the money to pay for some more medicine."—Ex.

Who Made the Tariff.

On the subject of "tariff revision by its friends" the Terra Haute (Ind.) Gazette (Dem.) has this catchism: "Who made the sugar tariff? Oxnard and Havemeyer. Who made the steel tariff? The ironmongers. Who made the tariff on hides? The packers. Who made the tariff on cotton goods? The New England mills. Who made the tariff on shoes? The New England and Philadelphia factories. Who made the tariff on locomotives? The Baldwin Locomotive works. Who made the tariff on salt? The salt trust. Who made the tariff on paper? The paper trust."

Knows How to Live.

Frank J. Gould's mother-in-law, Mrs. Edward Kelly, is called "the youngest looking grandmother in America." She does not look a day over thirty and with her perfect figure, heavy dark hair and pink-and-white complexion, is the envy of all her female friends. This is her own explanation: "I never worry, I never fret, I never argue, I never talk scandal. I never go without nine hour's sleep. I don't fit from tea to reception and from appointments with dressmakers to tiresome dinners with the rush and bustle of a Wall street man."—Adams Co. News.

Because Her Skin is Black.

A daughter of Booker T. Washington, the talented negro orator, has been dismissed from Wellesley College on the ground that she failed in music, though she stood well in other branches. Considering the unimportance of a knowledge of music in the make-up of a practical education, the suspicion has been raised that the student was dismissed because her skin is black.—Seattle Times.

The Local Round-Up.

There is talk of establishing a steam laundry at Prosser.

The North Western Improvement company made gifts of Thanksgiving turkeys not only to employees, but to almost everybody in CleElum and Roslyn. Two car loads of dressed birds were thus required to supply the demand.

Attorney Snively was called to Ellensburg Monday to assist in the prosecution of the men who assaulted a man by the name of Charlton recently at a dance a few miles out of Ellensburg. Charlton has since died as a result of his injuries and the men who maltreated him will probably have to stand trial for murder.

"Other Peoples Money," an up-to-date comedy, was presented at Larson's theater Thursday evening to a large and well pleased audience. The play is replete with funny situations and the company presenting it, in the opinion of the average theater goer, is far above the average that comes this way.

Thomas Jefferson, who will appear at Larson's theater Monday night in "Rip Van Winkle," is of the fifth generation of actors of the distinguished family of which he is a member. The reserved seat sale will begin at the box office to day at 11 a. m. The newspaper reports state that Jefferson has drawn crowded houses everywhere that he has appeared this season.

Dingle & Dimmlek are at work with a force of men and teams in deepening and widening the "Wide Gnage" ditch from West Yakima avenue to a point 3000 feet north. This needed improvement is designed to keep the ditch from over flowing during the irrigation season. When this work is completed the contractors will probably begin grading Wenas and Kittitas avenues.

Thomas Jefferson Returns in "Rip Van Winkle."

On Dec. 1st Thomas Jefferson will again be seen at Larson's Theatre in "Rip Van Winkle," a play in which he has uncommon success and in which he is seen to excellent advantage.

Thomas Jefferson, like his famous father, is an actor who loves his art as he loves nature, and on no occasion has he parted from legitimate means to win popularity. His impersonation of the noted "Rip" is modeled on correct lines and runs successfully the entire gamut of the emotions. It can truthfully be said that Thomas Jefferson is one of the most attractive actors now on the American stage. His Rip Van Winkle is an interesting, picturesque and vivid portrayal of that famous role. He won the hearts of our people when here a year ago and his coming engagement is sure to bring out a fine audience.
