Dear Click:

Thanks for your note about Mrs. Kingsley of Richland. She'll get a letter, and will also pass her name along to the Pullman people.

Apparently your swing around the circle was a success in every way.

We sent the PNQ the correct addresses for both you and Dean Guie and can't understand the error. At least, from this end. We have sent them the addresses of both of you again, and this time they should get the matter straightened out.

Your suggestion to Mrs. Alcorn has merit. Getting an appraisal is not easy for opinions on art vary. I saw some paintings Tuesday at Fredericks in Seattle, and if they were worth the prize asked, Mrs. Alcorn's estimate is very modest. She carries insurance on them at $1000 each, but I don't know whether that would be called an appraisal or not.

I had a letter this week from George Prescott of Ellensburg on the painted rocks that will be under water when the dam is completed. Seems to me I heard someone say the government was going to pull some of them up the bank. Anyway, I've written John Vanderzicht about them and suggested to George that he call you. He may have done so already. Certainly, some of them, if not all of them should be saved.

Fraternally

CHAPIN D. FOSTER' Director
