

The WESTERN HORSEMAN

The Magazine for Admirers of Stock Horses

3850 N. NEVADA AVE. • COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO. • MAIN 5275

August 14, 1953

Dear Mr. Relander:

Since you're a special friend of E.B. Quigley, you'll probably be interested in knowing that our September issue of The Western Horseman, due on the newsstands about August 25, will feature a full-color reproduction of an original oil painting of Quig's for a cover, as well as an article on his work with an eight-painting portfolio of some of his best pictures.

We agree with some of your fine appraisals of his work and feel he ranks with the best in his field. Bill Staats, Route 2, Box 130, Oregon City, author of the article on Quig, was formerly State Extension Editor at Washington State College, Pullman, and he frequently gets over to the Bickleton and Satus country where his wife's folks have their stock and wheat ranch.

Hope you like the issue as much as we enjoyed putting it together. Tear sheets are enclosed.

Sincerely,

Dick Spencer
H.
