

Jan. 9, 1956

Mr. J.H. Gipson, publisher,
The Caxton Printers Ltd.,
Caldwell, Idaho.

Dear Jim:

Attached is the title page material as prepared by Mr. Hoy.

I would have only the one suggestion, and that was mentioned and perhaps included in early submissions.

That would be for a sub title in smaller type under Drummers and Dreamers of Priest Rapids.

My reason for that, and the decision of the sub title in all material where possible is because of the capitalization on the Priest Rapids hydroelectric project, which will be very much in the news shortly before publication.

This sounds like an unwieldy , but is it unethical to include it on the title page? I leave that matter up to your better judgment. It can still be used in my publicity.

If the suggestion has merit, then it should read:

DRUMMERS AND DREAMERS

of

Priest Rapids

by etc.

Sincerely Click Relander