YAKIMA SUNFAIR NEWS RELEASE

Miss Sunfair, Becky Lovestrand, invited Washington state legislators to attend the Yakima Sunfair, May 27-June 4, during a recent trip to Olympia.

While at the state capital, Miss Sunfair and other Sunfair representatives attended sessions of both Senate and House of Representatives to encourage interest in the annual Sunfair celebration. Sunfair, a week-long program of varied and colorful activities, began in 1965 to call attention to Yakima as an ideal recreation spot.

Miss Sunfair was escorted in the Washington State Senate by Yakima Valley senators Fred Redmon, Damon Canfield, and Perry Woodall, and in the House by representatives Sid Morrison and Don Brazier. She also met with Governor Dan Evans and representatives Marjorie Lynch and Irving Newhouse.

Members of the Sunfair delegation accompanying Miss Sunfair to Olympia were Chamber of Commerce president Jack Kelly; Sunfair publicity co-chairman Dale Addington and Mrs. Addington, and Mrs. Pat Wright of the Chamber of Commerce.
