DEATH ON THE RAIL.

Harry Henderson, a Well Known Youth of this City Killed at Thorpe.

Harry, the 19 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Henderson of this city, met with a terrible mishap at Thorpe at 6 o'clock Monday morning which cost the unfortunate boy his life the following day.

The boy left here Sunday afternoon to go to Thorpe to take a position with his brother-in-law, David Guiland who is in charge of the survey being made for the Cascade Canal company in Kittitas county. He got off at Ellensburg as the north coast limited does not stop at Thorpe. At Ellensburg Harry met two other boys who were working on the survey who informed him that they were going up to Thorpe on the early morning freight and they concluded to go together. They caught a freight out of the "burg" about 5 a.m. As the freight would not stop at Thorpe the boys had to jump off. The other two boys landed all right but young Henderson was not so fortunate. He missed his footing in some way with the result that he was caught under the wheels and both of his legs almost severed from the body. The other boys promptly came to his relief. One of the lads thoughtfully plucked off his suspenders and bound the lacerated limbs in order to keep the sorely wounded lad from bleeding to death while the other ran to Guiland's camp and aroused the sleeping men there. Dr. Bean was hastily summoned from Ellensburg and gave the sufferer close medical attention up to the time of his death which occurred at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon after an amputation had been performed. The remains were brought to this city for burial Tuesday night, the funeral being held Wednesday at 3 o'clock.

The grief stricken family have the sympathy of the entire community in their great affliction. The unfortunate boy was very popular with all who knew him, on account of his frank and open manner. Those who were with him after the accident speak of the splendid nerve that he displayed and the fortitude and courage with which he met death.

It Was a Bad Fire.

Shortly after 4 o'clock Friday afternoon of last week fire broke out in the basement of the Lombard & Horsley block which made it very interesting for not only the fire department but for a number of citizens who took part in extinguishing the blaze.

The furniture company has been in the habit of keeping quite a large amount of stock in the basement and naturally enough a good deal of excitement in which the goods had been packed with got scattered about the place. One of the employees went into the basement at the time mentioned in order to find an iron bedstead of a certain number. He lit a match to guide him in the semi-darkness and is presumed to have thrown down the match which caused the conflagration. At any rate there was a considerable blaze which the store force was unable to contend with. The fire department was soon on the scene as well as a big crowd of people, business in the city being practically suspended.

The fire was extremely difficult to handle on account of being in the basement. The place was full of smoke and one or two minutes were about as long as the average man could stay in the hole without being smothered. bystanders promptly volunteered to relieve the firemen and finally, by dint of great exertion the fire was extinguished but not before an estimated loss of about $3000 from fire and water had been wrought. The property, however, was insured for a sum thought to be sufficient to protect the owners against the loss.

Bonding Proposition Carries.

At the special election held last Saturday in school district No. 7 called to vote on the proposition submitted by the Board of Directors to issue $22,000 worth of bonds the proposition carried by the vote of 293 for to 34 against. It will be seen that the plan to increase our school facilities met with almost universal favor.

A call for plans and specifications from architects for the proposed four room building on Nob Hill and also the four room annex to the Columbia school appears in this paper.

The Hop Market.

D. E. Lesh on Monday sold to Isaac Pincus & Sons the entire stock of hops of the Moxee company at a price given out by the purchaser at 17½ cents. When asked about the matter Mr. Lesh said the terms were private. The stock consists of 332 bales. It is said that Mr. Pincus has made arrangements to store the hops for a time in this city in expectation that the price will go up.

Ray-Fisk Nuptials.

A very pretty wedding occurred at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fisk, in Fruitvale, Wednesday evening at 5 o'clock, when Charlotte May Fisk and C. C. Ray were united in marriage by Rev. J. J. Tickner.

After the ceremony, an elegant wedding dinner was served after which the guests departed for their homes. The happy couple will make their home on North Eighth street in this city.

SOUTHERN CARNIVAL CO.

To be in North Yakima for the Week
Ending, Aug. 22.

Manager White of the Southern Carnival company has completed all the preliminary arrangements for the appearance in this city during the week beginning Aug. 17, of the series of big shows known under the above name. The carnival will be given under the auspices of the Yakima Cornet Band and promises to be the biggest amusement for the people ever seen in this section of the country.

The series of shows under canvas will occupy, according to Manager White, a space 40 feet wide in the center of Yakima avenue, extending a distance of nearly three blocks between Front and Third streets, the city council having granted that privilege on the strength of a petition numerously signed by business men along that thoroughfare. The company is now playing a two weeks engagement at Portland. From there they go to Seattle where they play two weeks under the auspices of the Labor Union, thence to Ellensburg for one week and are due here Aug. 17.

All interest at present centers in the selection of a Queen to preside during the week over the destinies of her people. The voting contest will begin next Monday. For this great honor the following fair candidates are already announced: Misses Frances Schorn, Lizzie Osborne, Mabel Chase Edith Williamson, Gretchen Crawford, Effie Allen, Birdie Bartholet, Mand Heiser Nettie Fry and Agnes Van der Aarde.

A VIOLENT DEATH.

Arthur Armsworthy, an Express Driver, is Killed by Being Thrown From a Wagon.

Arthur Armsworthy, aged 18 years, a driver for the N. P. express company, met with an accident about 10 a. m. Saturday morning that soon after resulted in the young man's death.

Arthur had been delivering express matter in the north end of the city and was returning to the depot. He was driving down F street at a high rate of speed. In turning into Third street, it is believed, judging from the tracks left by the wagon, that the wheels struck a deep chuck hole in the roadway, which, with the momentum of the vehicle, threw the unfortunate boy from his high seat in the wagon. At any rate when found by the people living in that neighborhood who ran to see what had happened, the lad was lying in an unconscious condition. Near by was a large stone and as the boy's body showed evidence of a terrible bruise on the left breast the commonly accepted theory is that the heart or the arteries leading to that organ were ruptured by violent contact with the stone. When those who reached him first arrived he was still breathing. He was turned over gently in order to put the body in an easier position, after which he immediately expired.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon under the auspices of Co. E, N. G. W., of which organization the young man had been a member.

A particularly sad feature of the case is that the parents of the unfortunate boy were both seriously ill at the time the accident occurred and were unable to attend the funeral of their son, who was an only child. From later reports, however, we learn that both father and mother are now convalescing. Mr. Armsworthy is a drayman by occupation and came here about two years ago from Oregon.

Funeral of N. S. Johnson.

The funeral of the late N. S. Johnson, proprietor of the Hotel Yakima, was held Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m., the services being conducted in the hotel parlor with a large number of sympathetic friends in attendance. Rev. H. M. Bartlett read the funeral service of the Episcopal church, a specially selected choir consisting of Mesdames Horsley and Connor, Messrs. Vance and Erwin rendering appropriate sacred selections.

The funeral arrangements were in charge of the Elks, the pall bearers being Messrs. Miller, Lombard and Moore of this city, Alex McCredy of Wapato, F. S. Williams of Toppenish and George Shaw of Ellensburg. At the grave the beautiful ceremonial was recited by Exalted Ruler J. D. Cornett. The procession to the grave was one of the longest ever seen in Yakima.

Result of a Runaway.

Mrs. M. B. Miles and Mrs. C. E. Forsythe while driving on Nob Hill Monday evening met with a serious accident that might easily have led to fatal results. The horse suddenly became scared and wheeling about threw the ladies violently from the buggy. Mrs. Miles, who was driving, pluckily held to the lines and was dragged some distance by the scared animal before he could be stopped. Mrs. Miles received some very severe bruises.

People in the neighborhood came to the rescue of the ladies as soon as possible and brought them home where medical aid was summoned for Mrs. Miles. That lady's many friends were pleased to learn that while her injuries were painful she received no permanent injury.

A Rather Funny Lawyer.

The sheriff's office is in receipt of a letter from a lawyer at Belle Plaine, Iowa, which is something of a novelty. Printed on the letter head is the following self-recommendation of the attorney's legal prowess: "I am the red-headed, freckled, legal Napoleon of the slope and always in the stirrup. Practice in every court on earth except that of Judge Lynch. Quick as a hippopotamus and gentle as a sunstroke. Refer to my friends and likewise to my enemies. Fees are the snows of war."

THE YAKIMA DEMOCRAT.

JOHN DAVID MEDILL,

Editor and Publisher.

Entered at the North Yakima Postoffice as Second-Class Matter.

One Dollar Per Year—In Advance.

Published every Saturday morning at the Democrat Printing House on First Street, North Yakima, Washington.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA.

THE Walla Walla municipal election held last Monday, was a hot number according to all accounts. The fight was not drawn on party lines but was between the two factions of the republican party, headed respectively by Senator Ankeny and ex-Governor Moore, with the democrats generally, under the lead of the Statesman, supporting the Moore ticket. The fight was bitter and unrelenting from start to finish. The result shows that the Ankeny people elected their candidate for mayor by 15 votes and one alderman by four votes. The balance of the Ankeny ticket being defeated.

It is said that this is the first nail in Senator Ankeny's political coffin, but that, however, remains to be proved. But that "the prophet is not without honor save in his own country" seems to be quite applicable in Senator Ankeny's case. That the banker-senator is hedged about with enemies, both personal and political, in his own country is certain and the reason is not far to seek. It is because in the attainment of his political ambition the man has been ruthless, aggressive and vindictive. Men who could not be induced to support him for either political spoils or money have been marked for slaughter by his machine. Every other man in Walla Walla who has had an ambition to figure independently in state politics has been severely sat upon by the Ankeny crowd for fear that it might hurt the chances of the big boss. After 10 years of campaigning on a commercial basis Mr. Ankeny finally had his way and secured the coveted seat in the senate, only to find, when he had reached it that he was out of his element in the highest law making body in the world.

Under such conditions it is no wonder that rebellion is rife in the Ankeny bailiwick. It will most likely continue and spread until the commercial senator has been unhorsed and retired to private life. Political success of the kind that the senator has attained, as a rule, is never of a lasting character.

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN while in Milwaukee recently was interviewed as to the movement in progress looking to the nomination for a fourth time of Grover Cleveland. Mr. Bryan said:

"It is a comedy as it now stands, but a tragedy if it should succeed."

In this opinion Mr. Bryan is doubtless right. He will be ridiculed for expressing it by the republican and Morganized democratic press, but this is the view taken by the masses of the democratic party just the same. They want no more of Grover Cleveland that much is certain. They will treat the "sage of Princeton" with the respect that they consider him entitled to as an ex-president just so long as he remains in retirement but if he insists upon projecting himself into the coming presidential contest he has no right to look for very considerate treatment. That he would be defeated for a nomination is probable; that he would be badly beaten at the polls is morally certain. Mr. Cleveland would do well to keep on fishing. The country may be in grave danger, but the expresident with his bafeul record and his evil associations is not the man to save it.

SENATOR DRYDEN of New Jersey has been elected a director of the new steel trust, and it was rumored that he would for that reason resign his seat in the senate. It is officially stated, however, by Mr. Dryden that there is not the slightest foundation for the existence of this rumor. He says: "No person has been authorized to say or intimate that any business obligation I have assumed may interfere with my official duties as senator. I hope that this will put an end to the ridiculous rumors that are in circulation." "Ridiculous rumors!" If the U. S. Senate was as sensitive as it ought to be about such matters, it would adopt a resolution compelling him to choose between the steel trust and New Jersey. The members of congress expelled a Utah congressman because he had two wives, but the republicans seem to think that a senator can, without inconsistency, be wedded to the trusts and at the same time take care of his constituents.—The Commoner.

ATTORNEY John E. Humphries of Seattle, announced through the Times of last Sunday his candidacy for governor. Mr. Humphries evidently believes in the truth of the old saw about the early bird catching the worm. It will be remembered that Mr. Humphries wanted to run for supreme judge last year but he was sat down upon by the republicans of King county. The facts in Mr. Humphries' case seem to be that he has had a constant itch for office ever since he landed in the state about ten years ago. The nearest that he ever came to landing was in 1896 when he managed to secure a nomination for superior judge of King county. The fusionists, however, were in the saddle that year, and Humphries was badly beaten at the polls. Since then when a nomination has been equivalent to election the "judge" has never been able to connect. It is not likely that his candidacy for governor will be regarded very seriously among the politicians.

Two of our local contemporaries are frantically making all sorts of wild cat promises to secure new subscribers. The intelligent newspaper reader, however, is not likely to be misled by such gaudy inducements but patronizes a paper because of its real worth as a news medium or for its ability to mould and reflect public opinion. When publishers resort to expensive or doubtful expedients to secure new subscribers it is pretty good evidence that they themselves do not regard their paper as being worth the price.

Mrs. Renstrom, a Swedish lady who resides at Seattle, claims to have discovered or re-discovered the long lost art of tempering copper. The Seattle P-I of recent date says that experiments made by local street car men with trolley and other wheels made from copper by the Renstrom tempering process shows that they stand wear much better than the same kind of wheels made from steel. A company has been organized at Seattle, says the P-I, and now have a foundry established to engage in the manufacture of tools and parts of machines made from tempered copper. Seattle, therefore, has the distinction of having the only plant of that kind in the world.

For many centuries the knowledge of tempering copper has been lost to the world. The art was known to the ancients, especially the Greeks and Romans, who used copper largely in the manufacture of their implements of war.

THE Spokesman-Review says that Alonzo M. Murphy, an aspiring politician of Spokane, is being groomed by his friends in that city to make the race for a congressional nomination against "Yakima" Jones. The local statesman will probably have but little reason to worry if a no more serious candidate appears against him than Murphy. However, other candidates will doubtless appear within the next year to change the situation. There is no doubt, though, that Mr. Jones has the inside track by reason of his alliance with the Ankeny, Foster, Groscup crowd. Unless the members of the triumvirate, who now rule the politics of this state, have reasons of their own for turning Mr. Jones down, the congressman's good luck will probably continue. If the McBride, Cushman, Wilson crowd should get together and control the next state convention it would mean good bye Mr. Jones of Yakima.

It ought to be a relief to the people of this city to know that an enactment of the late legislature made a very decided change in the management of the health department in cities of the third class, which includes North Yakima. Since June 10, the date that the new law went into operation, the direction of the health department and the control of contagious diseases has been in the hands of the county health officer. The city health officer of this town has not been legislated out of office by the new law, but under it his duties become purely perfunctory. Under the new dispensation therefore it is to be hoped that that this city will be under no further necessity of courting bankruptcy by reason of having to pay the enormous monthly bills of the city health officer. After all, here is something for which we ought to thank the late, unlamented legislature.

A cold storage warehouse for fruit is to be built at Colfax. If there is need for such an establishment at Colfax the need ought to be several times greater at North Yakima, which is a center for a greater fruit growing district.

The truth is that this town is badly in need of a cold storage warehouse and there is good reason for this. Besides a cold storage plant here would mean better profits for our fruit growers.

Towne on Expansion.

Chas. A. Towne of Minnesota was the chief speaker at the Fourth of July celebration held in New York under the auspices of Tammany Hall. He took for his subject "The Old Americanism" and among other good things said:

"This new policy of colonization is trying to masquerade in the borrowed garments of democracy. It has labeled itself 'Expansion,' but the disguise is transparent. The new policy is not expansion. Expansion is the natural and healthful growth of an organism. Imperialistic process of enlargement is by the extraneous grafting of alien and unsympathetic tissues, between which and the parent life there can never be any organic relation.

"The tendency that under the party in power has led to a repudiation of the Declaration of Independence and to a partial imperialism of the constitution, have naturally produced a corresponding revolution in the standard of government. The corruption discovered in our colonial administration, bad as it was, has been completely overshadowed by the recent revelations of systematized and confirmed fraud, which have assailed the country and arraigned the administration at the bar of public opinion. It is the natural result of long continued irresponsibility of power.

"We are at the parting of the ways. The American people must choose, and choose soon, to abandon the traditions of a century and a quarter, to enter upon the road trodden to their doom by so many nations that have gone before us, or to make a reedification of this government to the sublime principles of its founders."

The Iowa Idiocy.

The "Iowa idea" has added away and may now well be termed the Iowa idiocy. When republicanism of Iowa—intelligent, independent Iowa—abdicated its brain power and placed its will in the vest pocket of Senator Allison, is it any wonder that the nation is insulted with such pitiously idiotic deliverance of drivel as this declaration on the tariff question?

"Duties that are too high ought to be reduced; duties that are too low should be increased."

And of such is the intelligence of Iowa! If there had been more than two cabinet members of the national administration, hailing from Iowa, what would have been the straddle limit?

Since the Iowa republican kindergarten is now officially opened, it is to be hoped that Professor Allison will advance the class as fast as their capacity will permit, without undue forcing. At the next convention he might venture to add to their political primer platform a declaration that two plus two make four, of course with the usual mental reservation of the prudent politician. By successive stages the multiplication table and the rule of three may receive platform sanction. At some day in the dim, distant future there is hope that the dignity of the ten commandments may be measurably attached, with the help of the eighth safely amended to read "Thou shalt not steal—except by law."

—Ge. F. Cotterill in Seattle Mail.

Drink Yakima Mineral Water.

Another New Industry.

The new bottling factory just completed at the end of East Chestnut street is a credit to this city and will have a capacity for turning out summer drinks for a city and surroundings of the size of Seattle. The proprietors, Biggam Bros., have invested several thousand dollars in their building and plant and expect to do a good business in supplying this city and county with soft drinks, suitable for those that desire a non-intoxicating hot weather beverage.

Their plant is in a large two story building with basement. The machinery, with the exception of the gasoline engine was imported and consists of a pump and mixer combined, which mixes the gas and water and forces it into the bottles, thus allowing the bottling of the liquids to continue steadily, a gas tank, a gas generator, two bottling machines, with flavoring syrup cans attached, a water filter and other apparatus necessary for a complete bottling establishment. Mr. Biggam informed the DEMOCRAT that there was but one other mixer and pump similar to the one they use, in this country.

It is the intention of the firm to cater to the home trade, rather than the restaurants and saloons. They claim for their products that they remain fresh and sweet for ten years. A bottle used by them is a novelty. It has a marble stopper that is blown into the neck of the bottle. After opening the bottle by forcing the marble down into it, by turning the bottle on its side the stopper drops into a slot, allowing the contents to flow freely, by reversing the bottle the marble drops into place, again corking it up.

Biggam Bros. are pleasant gentlemen to meet and welcome all that have any desire to look about their place of business. They expect to have their plant in full operation next week.

The Perfect Liver Medicine.

Mrs. N. A. Jolly, Noble, O. T., writes: "I have used Herbine for a number of years, and can cheerfully recommend it as the most perfect liver medicine and the greatest blood purifier. It is a medicine of positive merit, and fully accomplishes all that is claimed for it." Malaria cannot find a lodgment in the system while the liver is in perfect order, for one of its functions is to prevent the absorption of fever producing poisons. Herbine is a most efficient liver regulator. 50c at Fred L. Janek's.
