The Epigram. By J. D. MEDILL.

"In time of peace prepare for war" is a wise old maxim, which all Americans are presumed to believe in and admit the wisdom of, but which, as a matter of fact, has never been practiced by our government during its more than a century of national existence. It is, indeed, very fortunate for this great nation of ours that our first struggle with a foreign foe after a long period of peace is with a decadent and decaying nation like Spain, which, though a warlike people, is too weak and impotent to deal us a crushing blow while we are getting ready to fight. If a conflict had been suddenly precipitated instead with a first-class power like England, France or Germany, our unpreparedness might have cost us dear both in blood and treasure, as well as deep humiliation. Our navy, though yet small, is formidable compared with that of Spain, and will no doubt continue to render a good account of itself if they succeed in finding any Spanish ships to fight. While our government has been industriously engaged in building a modern navy, it has persistently overlooked and slighted its equally important arm of defense, the regular army. While congressmen and senators have vied with each other in voting huge appropriations to the navy, they have flung but a mere pittance to the army, besides making it the butt of their heavy wit and ridicule. Our army then quite naturally at the beginning of this war was found to be pitifully weak, as well as antiquated, and in need of reorganization before it could be utilized in the present crisis. The people of this country will not tolerate the existence of an immense standing army, which might easily become a menace; but they do want one of sufficient strength to protect the country in any ordinary emergency, and they are willing to pay liberally for its maintenance.

There are a certain class of people in this country who are beginning to be clamorous for an alliance with England. They have grown visibly excited about the matter since Joseph Chamberlain, the English politician, popped the question in behalf of "deah" old England a few days ago; and now all the anglomaniacs in America, taking their cue from him, are shouting for an alliance offensive and defensive with our traditional enemy. But they are sure to be disappointed. There is no apparent reason for such a course on the part of this country, nor has there been since this war began, or likely to be in the near future. The foreign powers all have a very wholesome respect for Uncle Sam. They are behaving very well considering the fact that their interests lie wholly on the side of Spain. Americans have now, it is true, a kindly feeling for England for the sympathy she has shown us during the present war; but then we are not so ignorant as not to know that England has been actuated as much by policy as by sympathy with us. England today is completely isolated, without a friend in Europe. She fears, and with good reason, a hostile combine against her in Europe. If the world knew that she had an alliance with us, England would be let severely alone. All Americans desire a friendly understanding with England, but we will not permit ourselves to be used to pull her chestnuts out of the fire. If our extreme anglomaniacs will be satisfied with nothing less than an alliance with England, they can get it by going over there to reside.

There is already beginning to be heard both in and out of congress a good deal of murmuring and discontent with what is called the procrastinating policy of the war department in delaying so long the invasion of Cuba. A good deal of criticism has already been passed on Secretary Alger and General Miles by the radical element in congress as the officials who are responsible for the policy of non-action. The president himself, according to report, has grown vexed and impatient at the slow progress made at mobilizing the army of invasion and is credited with having shown a disposition to take matters into his own hands and compel the army to land in Cuba. The probabilities of the case are that the high officials of the army understand the situation much better than their critics. There are known to be 60,000 well drilled Spanish soldiers on the island, besides many thousands more of volunteers. The Spaniards, too, will be fighting on the defensive, and therefore have a tremendous advantage. In view of the fact that the insurgent army is now positively known to exist mostly on paper, it would be little short of criminal foolhardiness to attempt the invasion with our little standing army, or that part available. Such a course would probably mean to march through a slaughter house to an open grave. When the volunteers are properly equipped and ready to march, the invasion will doubtless begin, and not before.

The expected second call of the president was issued on Tuesday asking for 75,000 additional volunteers. That they will be quickly raised and tendered to the government goes without saying, for, although there may still be some differences of opinion among our people as to the wisdom of this war, now that it is on, no American worthy of the name can refuse to support his government, at least morally, against the attack of a foreign foe. The quota of our own state will be about 700 men under this call; and so patriotic are our people in responding, that the governor feels embarrassed in selecting the companies for service, as witness the situation here in Yakima, where two rival organizations of volunteers are now contending for the honor of being called out.

The Tacoma Ledger, which is edited by a nondescript recently imported from the east by the Tacoma Land company, in a carping editorial, questions the motive of Hon. W. J. Bryan in offering his services, and his life if need be, to his country, and insinuates that he is merely working the people to increase his own popularity. Could blind and narrow partisanship go further? The patriotism that Mr. Bryan doubtless feels is utterly foreign to such small-minded creatures as the editor of the Ledger.

Yakima county this year has an immense fruit crop coming on, by far the greatest in its history. What move is there being made to find markets and secure living transportation rates in order that the crop may be handled and leave some margin for the producers? Don't all speak at once. This is an important matter, and one in which the Commercial club ought to take the initiative. This is one of the problems which that moribund institution was organized to solve. Will it tackle the question?

The new editor of THE EPIGRAM returns thanks to his brethren of the press throughout the state for the kindness they have manifested toward him and trusts that he will never forfeit their esteem.

A blue mark on the margin of this paper means that this is a sample copy sent you with the hope that you will become a subscriber.

Leader in Low Prices

A Valuable Institution.

There has been in operation in this city for the period of nearly a year an institution the great value of which to this community would be hard to estimate, and yet so little mention of it has been made heretofore through the local press that there are doubtless many people right in our midst who are scarcely aware of its existence; and yet this valuable industry is circulating more money among the farmers of this county than any other agency within its borders. We refer to the Yakima creamery of this city, of which that wonderful rustler, E. E. James, is the proprietor and manager. THE EPIGRAM reporter took a look through Mr. James' establishment on Wednesday morning and feels well repaid for the time expended. The genial proprietor and his polite assistant showed the scribe through the building and explained to him the fine art of modern butter making, which was a revelation to the reporter, as his ideas of butter making were limited to the old-fashioned dasher churn which his mother used to introduce him to in the days of his boyhood. The Yakima creamery is strictly up-to-date in all its appointments. The power is generated by an 8-horse power engine. The separator, which is a marvel of ingenuity, is of the latest pattern and performs its work thoroughly. The mammoth churn, which has a capacity of 185 gallons of cream, had just performed its morning's labor, and contained about 200 pounds of yellow toothsome looking butter, which gave the scribe a decidedly hungry feeling. Mr. James informed us that, including his two branch stations up the Natchez and Wenas valleys, he was using the milk of over 500 cows, and paid out monthly to the farmers over $1500 for their cream; that his total output averaged 400 pounds per day, and that the market for his fine Jersey brand of butter was found principally in the cities of Seattle and Spokane. The reporter left the institution believing that Mr. James was a man who understood his business and that his plant is a mighty good thing for Yakima county.

WASHINGTON STATE FAIR.

Prof. Newton B. Pierce, one of the entomologists of the Agricultural Department of the United States, has been assigned by the department to carry on institute of six days during the State Fair and to deliver lectures upon various topics of general practical interest to agriculturists in his line. The State Fair Commission desire people who are interested in pest- of all sorts to communicate to them any subject that they desire Prof. Pierce to enter into. The Commission will be particularly pleased to have specimens of any pest handed in to them at an early date, so that they can get Prof. Pierce's best judgment upon their extermination when he comes.

The Commission finds that all the eccentric people are not yet dead. An enthusiastic friend of the Fair has sent $10 to the Commission which he prefers to be given to the oldest woman making the best pound of butter.

The Commission has prepared the racing program; and while they are not running the Fair to horses at all, yet the people who have good horses are not going to be overlooked; but are going to have an opportunity to see the finest races ever yet seen in the state of Washington. The Commission are particularly favored by fortune this season, for the reason that the drought in California will limit the races in that state, and the horses will come here. And in Montana this year there will be no races in harness, and their horses will also come here—so that the promise of fine racing was never so flattering. The Fair Association belongs to the National Trotting Association and also to the Northwest circuit, which gives it every advantage possible for securing good horses.

The Commission met May 21 at the office of the secretary. The board were all present except Dan Stewart, of Walla Walla. There were present besides the Commissioners: A. E. McDonald, state dairy commissioner, who is superintendent of the dairy department of the fair; J. L. Smith, Hazelwood dairy, Spokane, superintendent of the stock department; H. H. Collier, Tacoma, superintendent of the poultry department; Guy MacLeod Richards, Tacoma, editor of the Pacific Coast Dairyman, Miller Freeman, of Seattle, and other prominent citizens. These gentlemen were present to assist in completing the premium list, which is now ready for the publishers. The commission have succeeded, through the liberality of the three larger cities of the state, other cities outside of the state, and the citizens of North Yakima, in obtaining a list of special premiums of something over $2100 in merchandise and cash. This will enable the commission to put up good premiums in every line. By the help of prominent citizens throughout the state, and by the large premiums we are enabled to put up, we are assured of a good fair this fall.

Rose Carnival.

The ladies of the Christian church will give their third annual rose carnival on June 3, 1898, in the Syndicate building. The leading feature of the evening will be a representation of the flagship Olympia, of Admiral Dewey's fleet, bedecked with the national colors and roses. The flagship will be in charge of the carnival queen. A very interesting program is being prepared. Good music will be furnished. Only 10 cents admission will be charged for this splendid evening's entertainment. Ice cream and cake will be served during the evening. Doors open at 6 p. m.; program begins at 8 p. m. Remember the date, June 3.

DRUNK AND DISORDERLY.—Sunday afternoon a couple of intoxicated young men, who, we understand, have been employed on the Morford ranch, made themselves obnoxious by attempting to take charge of the Salvation services on the avenue. Sheriff Shaw, who happened to be on the scene, objected to the hoodlums' method of running the meeting, and then the belligerent ranchers turned their attention to him. The result of the melee was that the sheriff and Constable Short soon had the peace disturbers cooling off in the city bastille. The next day before Police Judge Dam the prisoners, under the names of John Doe and Richard Roe, plead guilty to the minor charge of drunk and disorderly and were fined $5 and costs each, which they refused to pay, and were therefore committed.

DISASTER ON THE TRAIL.—THE EPIGRAM is informed by J. A. Carpenter that Mrs. Santy McGee, living in the Wenas, had received a letter from her husband on Tuesday which was written at White Horse rapids early in May stating that he and his three companions who left Yakima with him in March had safely passed the rapids, but that 25 other gold seekers had lost their lives in the attempt to shoot that dangerous place. The report is verified in Tuesday's dailies.

A little 10 pound daughter arrived to brighten the home of Ronald Grant on Sunday evening. Accordingly, our genial marshal feels as happy as a big sunflower.

Mesdames Farmer and Shardlow, Miss Sherwood and Dr. Frank expect to go to Walla Walla next week to attend the grand lodge of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs.

The condemnation suit of the David Longmire Irrigation Co. vs. Wyman, involving a ditch right of way in the Wenas valley, was settled out of court last Saturday.

It is understood that the chime of the wedding bells will soon waft into marital bliss two of our prominent young business men, who have long contemplated the fatal maneuver.

Harry H. Collier, editor of The Poultryman, of Tacoma, was in the city Monday. He was in conference with the state fair commissioners, having been awarded the printing of the fair premium lists.

L. E. Sperry and wife left Tuesday evening for the east. Mrs. Sperry will remain with her husband's relatives at Knoxville, Iowa, while the postmaster completes his business at Washington, D. C.

Al Struben, the popular barber, has had constructed a new sweatbox in which to roast his customers who desire to test the merits of his wonderful vapor sweat bath. The best medicine to take for a cold. Try it, only 35c.

The city dads have authorized the appointment of James Curran to assist night watchman Smull to guard the city at night, which action became necessary through the presence of so many hobos in town.

George Mattoon was looking so pleased and happy on Monday that THE EPIGRAM scribe stopped to inquire the cause, only to learn that a new daughter had come to take up her residence with him the night previous.

Folger's pure spices and teas at Kinsey & Co.'s.

W. J. Prisch, of Aurelia, Cherokee county, Iowa, an old neighbor of E. O. Keck, arrived in Yakima Saturday night with the view of looking over the country with the idea of ultimately making his home in this favored locality.

Try our "Apex Syrup." It is fine. Kinsey & Co.'s.

The monotony of life was varied at the residence of J. M. Brown on Friday last by the arrival of a 9 pound boy, to whom has been given the honored name of Admiral Dewey. Here is hoping that the youngster will be able to sustain his glorious title.

Mrs. A. E. Kinsey, the wife of the popular groceryman of First street, with her two little daughters, left on the overland Thursday night for a three months' visit to relatives in the east, who reside at St. Paul, Chicago, and Williams county, Ohio.

R. A. Hume, familiarly known to old friends in this city as "Bobby," was in town Monday, having business before the local land office. Mr. Hume is fully restored to health and has back his old berth with the land department of the Northern Pacific.

Just received at Wilson's confectionary, sour pickles in bulk.

John R. Bell was arrested Sunday evening by night officer Smull not alone for being intoxicated, but for using foul language on the streets. The following day, in Judge Dam's court, he fattened the city treasury to the extent of $5 and went home a wiser man.

G. A. Graham announced this week that W. G. Pearce, general superintendent of the N. P., would be in Yakima in a few days and would formally authorize the construction of the long-needed new depot at this place and that local contractors would be given an opportunity to bid on the work.

The young driving horse of J. H. Wiley, the Second street blacksmith, took a spin of its own accord Wednesday evening. The cart to which the animal was attached came in contact with Mulhollan & Lemon's delivery wagon, as well as a telephone pole, with great force, but strange enough the damage done was only slight.

Attorney John A. Brown, formerly of this city, but now of Lewiston, Idaho, made a flying visit to Yakima last Sunday to visit his little girl, who is attending the Sisters' school in this city. Mr. Brown is now a member of a prosperous law firm in Lewiston, known as Lane, Brown & Greene. His many friends in this vicinity are pleased to learn of his success in his new home.

GETTING A CORNER ON PANTS.—Two unknown characters, but presumably hobos, ambled into Coffin Bros.' store last Monday morning and interested themselves in the clothing department. After overhauling the goods, and remarking that they found nothing to suit their fastidious tastes, they made known their intention of looking elsewhere, when G. W. Cary, one of the watchful clerks of the establishment, noticing the swelled appearance of one of the gentlemen of the road, made haste to make a personal investigation, and rather to his own surprise, produced from the hobo's heaving bosom five pairs of pantaloons which the Weary Willie had just swiped from the counter. Both men were arrested, and on their trial before Justice Moulton that afternoon gave the names of Chas. Wilkerson and James Hanley. Wilkerson, on whose person, was found the stolen goods, plead guilty to petty larceny and was given twenty days in the county jail. Hanley was discharged, there not being sufficient evidence to connect him with the crime.

HURRAH FOR BUTLERVILLE.—Robert Kershaw, the well known rancher of the Natchez, informs THE EPIGRAM that in a late letter received from his son Ed., (who, with his three elder brothers, is engaged in mining in Grant county, Oregon,) stating in effect that a big new strike of free gold ore had been lately made by the Butler brothers on a claim adjoining that of the Kershaws, and that a new town is springing up as if by magic in that vicinity, which had been christened Butlerville. The writer, who spent a portion of last summer in that vicinity hunting for the yellow metal, and is acquainted with that district's great possibilities, joins with the many friends of the Kershaw boys in this county in the hope that they will profit by the big strike and continue to reap a golden harvest out of their fine property there. The only kick we have got coming is that the new town was not called Kershaw.

REPUBLIC ALL RIGHT.—D. H. Elliott, formerly a resident of Yakima, arrived in town Monday night from Myers creek on the Colville reserve, where he has extensive mining interests. He made the trip across the country via Waterville. Mr. Elliott has lately formed a company to work the five claims which he was fortunate enough to secure last year. He gives a glowing account of the rise of the new camp of Republic, which only started last year, and now has a population of several thousand. The ore deposits there, he asserts, are proving much more extensive and richer as depth is attained in the shafts. Men who went there almost penniless a year or so ago are in many cases now independently rich. Heavy capitalists have interested themselves in the camp, and all seem to feel assured of its future greatness.

A PLEASANT PICNIC.—Wednesday afternoon a very pleasant picnic party sojourned on the Ahtanum, the guests of Mesdames Whitson and Bartlett. About twenty of the party went out on their wheels. The afternoon was devoted principally to partaking of a very bountiful and elegant repast thoughtfully provided for the party and incidentally at charades, marksmanship, and drilling for the war. Those who were present were Mr. and Mrs. Whitson, Rev. and Mrs. Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. Suively, Mr. and Mrs. Graham, Mesdames Horsley and Fechter, the Misses Scudder, Cary, Patton, barge, Kinney, Cameron, Kingsbury, Lombard, Myer, Ker, Clancy,

WE ARE UP-TO-DATE.—C. W. Liggett, for five years foreman of The Herald office, but more latterly connected with The Republic, will next week take charge of the mechanical part of THE EPIGRAM office. As Mr. Liggett is perhaps as good an all-around printer as there is in the state, this paper regards itself in luck to secure his services. The proprietor of this paper has ordered a large amount of new type and material of the latest design, which will modernize the office and make it as good a newspaper and job plant of its size as there is in the northwest.

THE NEW VOLUNTEERS.—Captain Heg's company met at the armory Monday night and went through their first drill. At a business meeting held subsequently, a motion to drill only weekly on Monday nights was carried, and after a discussion as to the probability of an early call the meeting adjourned. Captain Bartholet's new company of militia will meet Saturday night at the court house. Lieutenants will not be elected until the company is made up. There are now 53 enrolled. There are several aspirants for the two remaining commissions.

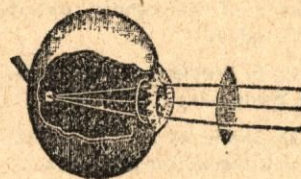

WON'T STARVE NEXT WINTER IN KLONDIKE.—C. W. Thebo commenced loading 1096 head of cattle at Ellensburg on Wednesday, which, with the 104 head he has at Vancouver, will be taken to Dawson. The start will be made from Victoria about the first of June. The cattle will be landed at Pyramid harbor and taken in over the Dalton trail to Five Fingers rapids and from there taken down the Yukon on the company's own boats. George Weikel, we are informed, is the only man going in with the party from Yakima.

H. C. Wilson, First Ward.

A. L. Flint, Second Ward.

A. E. Howard, Third Ward.

In case there is a vacancy in the committee, caused by death, removal or otherwise, we suggest that the voters of the precinct in which such vacancy occurs, call a meeting and select a man to represent them on the committee.

We invite to attend this meeting of the committee any member of the party who may feel so disposed. Signed,
A. L. FLINT, A. E. HOWARD,
Secretary. Chairman.

WOULD MAKE A GOOD ONE.—The friends of Miss Lucy Nichols have finally induced the young lady to consent to the use of her name as a candidate for the office of school clerk at the approaching school election, which is to take place on June 11. Miss Nichols is a highly cultivated and estimable young lady and is eminently qualified to fill the position. Many people take the view that, inasmuch as the ladies of this district have no representative on the board, they can rightfully ask that the clerkship be given to Miss Nichols.

The Baptist Sunday school will hold its sessions at 10 a. m. hereafter and the morning service at 11 a. m. The subject will be "The Mission of Jesus." In the evening, at 8 p. m., the young people will take charge of the service, and present a memorial day patriotic program. One of the attractions of the service will be the singing of the war song of the Cuban patriots, "Hymno Bayames." The church people will meet next Tuesday to fence and improve church property. Free dinner to all who help or contribute.

The names of the following parties have been drawn to serve as petit jurors at the June term of court, beginning on the 14th: W. R. Clark, Mart Schichtl, Nelson Rich, James Grover, W. M. Grissom, Louis Hamel, L. B. Kinyon, M. L. Siak, D. R. McDonald, R. Van Buskirk, Samuel Chappell, A. E. Goodwin, J. P. Fox, W. B. Dudley, W. L. Douglass, John London, Jacob Howe, John Reed, Wm. Rowe, J. M. Lamberston, Wm. Finn, C. H. Sawyer and W. L. Stabler.

The Ladies' Aid society of the M. E. church intend giving a strawberry festival on the 8th of June, the place of holding it to be announced later. One novel feature of the affair will be a booth devoted to the exhibition of fine samples of berries produced by those who pride themselves on the fine quality of their fruit. Samples should bear the name of the producer and the variety. All growers are requested to bring in their fruit.

Some vandal got in his work on Nob Hill one night last week by turning the water ditch loose on the Brackett ranch and also on the Morgan farm, R. Strobach being the principal sufferer at the latter place, the water having run all night and drowning out about two acres of onions which that gentleman had industriously cultivated.

SUMMONS.

In the Superior court of Yakima county, State of Washington,
CHAS. MCCABE, Plaintiff,
vs.
WM. PALEN, Defendant. } summons by Publication.
State of Washington, } ss
County of Yakima, }
The State of Washington, to Wm. Palen, Defendant:

You are hereby summoned to appear within sixty days after the date of the first publication of this summons, to-wit: Within sixty days after the 7th of May, 1898, and defend the above entitled action in the above entitled court, and answer the complaint of the plaintiff and serve a copy of your answer upon the undersigned Attorneys for plaintiff at their office below stated, and in case of your failure so to do, judgment will be rendered against you according to the demand of the complaint, which has been filed with the Clerk of said Court.

The object of this action is to obtain a decree of foreclosure of that certain real mortgage, made, executed and delivered by said defendant William Palen to Charles McCabe on the 15th day of June, 1896, upon the following described real estate in Yakima County, State of Washington, to-wit:

Beginning at a point ten feet west of the southeast corner of the southwest quarter of southeast quarter of section 27, township 12 north of range 19 east W. M., thence north 43° 2' 10" feet; thence north 56° degrees, west 306 3-10 feet; thence south 213 1-2 feet; thence south 67 1-2 degrees. East 454 7-10 feet; thence north 1381 8 10 feet to place of beginning.

And also the following described real estate in Kitsap County, State of Washington, to-wit: The east half of the northwest quarter; the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter and the west half of the northwest quarter of northwest quarter of section 12, 22, north of range one west W. M., which said mortgage was on the 30th day of June, 1896, filed for record and recorded in the Auditor's office of Yakima County, Washington, in Book "P" records of mortgages of said county at page 57, and on the 15th day of July filed for record and recorded in the Auditor's office of Kitsap County, Washington, in Book "Y" records of mortgages of said county at page 4. The amount demanded is the sum of twelve hundred and eighty-seven dollars, together with interest thereon on at 12 per cent. per annum from April 29th, 1898, until paid and 10 per cent. of said principal sum and interest as an attorney's fee and costs.

The date of the first publication of this summons is May 7th, 1898.

Dated May 4th, 1898.

THE WEEKLY EPIGRAM.

All the same Cervera.

EDITOR EPIGRAM: When I lived in the state of California, more for pleasure than profit, I kept a few rabbits, constructing for the purpose a warren in the back yard that was floored over with inch lumber. Time proving, however, that the rats were getting the best of the business, I sold the bunnies and subsequently found six big rats occupying the vacated premises, having gained ingress by gnawing a hole between two slats. On being alarmed they rushed singly to the hole for escape, and as each head protruded through the wall I tapped it with a stick and soon had the six rodents dead in a pile. I am reminded of the incident by reading of Admiral Cervera's entrance into the harbor of Santiago de Cuba, and when I read of the Cortes voting the admiral thanks for his splendid maneuvers in escaping the American fleet I thought of the remark, "The next day it rained!"

G. H. M.

August Norman, an old man who has for years been employed by the Northern Pacific Railway company as a watchman at the dangerous cut between Roza and Umptanum, was suddenly killed early Wednesday morning by an east bound freight. It is supposed that the old man was asleep near the track when the fast freight came thundering along. The man, suddenly awakening, was evidently dazed, and attempted to cross the track, just in time to get caught. The mangled body was thrown to the bottom of the steep embankment.

C. A. Bushnell, the photographer of this city, and his sister, Mrs. E. E. James, left for Spokane Thursday night of last week to be at the bedside of their younger sister, Miss Cora Bushnell, who was taken suddenly ill while acting as a hospital nurse in the Falls City. Later we learn that the unfortunate young lady died Tuesday morning and the remains taken by relatives through Yakima that night on their way to the old home at Eugene, Oregon, for interment.

Mrs. L. M. Washburn and her two daughters, who reside in the second story of the smaller Cadwell building, were the victims of a burglar or burglars last Monday night, who succeeded in purloining two valuable gold watches, besides several dollars in money. No clue has yet been had to the thieves, but the officers do not regard it as the work of any or the ordinary hobos who have been overrunning the town of late.

Old Dr. Drummond.

After years of patient study and experiment has given to the world a preparation which is an absolute and permanent cure for every form of rheumatism. The price is $5, but it is two large bottles—enough for a month's treatment—and will relieve the worst case from the first dose. Sent by express to any address on receipt of price, by the Drummond Medicine Co., New York, with full particulars and testimonials of wonderful cures.

Dr. L. P. Mullinnix, one of the most eminent physicians and surgeons in this country, with his assistant, will be at The Yakima Hotel, North Yakima, June 11, 12, 13 and 14.

NOT THE KIND THAT BACKS OUT.—We understand that a report is being circulated about the city by interested parties that the local volunteer company of which Messrs. Heg, Hiscock and Liggett are the officers was about to disband. We feel justified in stating that the report is not true. On the contrary, the company is completing its organization, and expects to receive a call to go to the front.
