TO CLASSIFY THE LANDS. DOING LOTS OF BUSINESS

Department Has Taken Up the Matter of Yakima Indian Leases.

W. H. Redman has been appointed by the department to classify the Yakima Indian reservation lands. He will begin at once. The work will probably last for some little time, as his instructions are to make a personal examination of every piece of land on which he reports.

No leases will be made until the classification is complete. The object of classifying the lands is to determine the length of time for which leases should be made.

On all other reservations the Indians may lease for three years only. Special rules apply to the Yakima reservation. Through the efforts of Congressman Jones the time for leases on this reservation was extended to five years, and afterward to ten years. Some lessees, thinking they were assured of their lands for ten years, went ahead last year and made extensive improvements. The department refused to approve the leases for ten years. This was very unsatisfactory to the lessees, as the cost of preparing the lands for cultivation was heavy, and in one or two cases they concluded that it would be better to throw up the leases and loose all they had put into improvements than to work the land on five year contracts. About this time an inspector was detailed to look into the matter. He recommended that on account of the conditions existing the lands should be classified, and where cost of preparing for cultivation is heavy, permission to lease for ten years should be given. Under this report Mr. Redman received his appointment and instructions.

The instructions indicate that only in special cases will leases for more than five years be accepted by the department. Improved and sub-irrigated lands cannot be leased for more than three years. Should Require Permits and Inspection. "I believe that the city government should be less lax in dealing with builders and contractors," said W. W. Felton to a REPUBLIC reporter one day this week. "Systematic methods would serve as a protection to the builders themselves as well as to the city of North Yakima in general. As it is now any kind of a structure, be it a shed or a large building may be put up any place outside the fire limits, which comprise the few blocks in the business portion of town, without the knowledge or permission of the city authorities. I believe a plumbing inspector was appointed once but his duties are never attended to, and even that branch of the work, which is a most important one, may be done just as the workmen see fit. "One of the worst of the evil effects of this policy is that stills, toothpicks or anything of that kind may be put under a house for supports and brick or stone foundations may be put in of such a thickness that they are almost valueless. Then a slight settling will open a crack in the chimney and a fire results. For a frame house a stone foundation should be at least 16 or 18 inches in thickness, and never less than 18 inches for a brick or stone house. They should do here as they do in most cities, require a permit for the construction of every building in the city limits and have a building and plumbing inspector who would see that no improper work is allowed to stand. This would not be much of a tax upon the city's finances and it might be of incalculable benefit to the town. In this way, too, it could be ascertained at any time exactly how much building is going on in the town, its character and cost."

Shoot With Any Company in State. "I feel confident that the Yakima company, N. C. W., can shoot with any other company in the state and come out with a higher score," said Second Lieutenant Dan of Company C, Monday. "We have been doing much target practice lately and have developed many good shots. The Tacoma troop issued a challenge to any of the militia companies for a shoot and we accepted the challenge but the Seattle boys' acceptance reached Tacoma before ours, and the match was arranged. In our letter we said we not only would be willing to shoot with the Tacoma boys but with any other company or troop in the regiment, and our challenge is still open. We have not heard the result of the recent inspection and do not know when it will be made public."

Fall Trade Largest in the History of the Town.

The business men of Yakima are in the midst of the largest fall trade ever known in the history of the town. North Yakima and, the surrounding country are in a remarkably prosperous condition, by reason of the big crops, good prices, influx of immigration and general prosperity of the country. The town is growing at such a rate that an outsider might think a big boom was on; but such is not the case. The growth is natural and healthy. The population of the town has been nearly doubled within the last three years.

With a view to getting the expression of the business men a REPUBLIC representative called upon a few of the many business houses and their statements, which follow, bear out the truth of the assertions made in the opening paragraph.

Wyman & Fraser—although our firm is a newly formed one and we but recently moved into our new quarters the fall trade has been remarkably good, much better than we had anticipated even in our most hopeful moods. The other day $1000 worth of vehicles, harness and the like went out of our doors between the opening and closing hours, and as the average days' business does not fall much below that we are entirely satisfied.

The North Yakima Milling company, Alexander Miller—Within the last year we have greatly increased the product of our mill, and we have no difficulty in disposing of all the flour we turn out. What we cannot sell in the state we ship to China. Our business in a local way far exceeds that of last year and promises even better for the future.

L. H. Dills & Co.—Never since the establishment of the Star Clothing house has business been better with us than it has been within the last three or four months. All during the season which we had expected to be dull we had an excellent trade, and within the last few days it has been rushing, due largely to the change of the weather to a lower temperature.

The Yakima Hardware company—Our business this fall has been fully one third better than last fall and far ahead of anything previous to that.

The Boston Store, J. H. Cook—I believe that the business done by the Boston Store is at least 50 percent greater now than it was last fall, and it is constantly growing in proportion. I have never at any time regretted my removal to Yakima from the western part of the state, as I believe Yakima is the best town of its size in the northwest.

Ditter Brothers—The volume of our trade has greatly increased over a year ago, and if conditions were similar so all other statistics comparison might be made it is probable that a percentage of increase amounting to half as much as again would be shown. This may be accounted for in a small part by our change to more commodious quarters.

The Dudley Shoe company—We had imagined that our business could increase as rapidly as it has done in the last year, and we are confident that no other shoe business ever grew so fast before in the town of North Yakima. Moving into our new location has had an excellent effect upon it, also.

Read's Steam Laundry—In the last year our work has so increased that we have been compelled to add a second story to our building.

The Henry H. Schott company—How is our fall trade this year? At least 50 per cent greater than last year and by all odds the greatest in our history. How do we account for it? There is only one way to account for it, the growth of the town and the increase of prosperity among all classes of people. It certainly has not been the weather, as that has been too good to be of any benefit to a dry goods and clothing store.

The Kohls Shoe company—In company with many other merchants our trade has not been benefited by weather conditions, but taking it as a whole the fall trade has been good and the summer business was exceptionally large.

Robert E. Smith—General trade was brisk all through the summer and early fall months, so much so that a "dull season" is not nearly as noticeable during the summer as it was a few years ago. On an aggregate I suppose my business was greater last fall, but that was due entirely to the change in school books at that time.

Coffin Brothers, Arthur Coffin—Business all through the year has been most satisfactory to us and although I cannot give the figures, I believe it is 25 per cent greater than last year. I am sure we have no cause to complain.

The Lombard & Horsley Furniture company, Frank Horsley—We have been so busy we have not had time to figure up our business for comparison with last year's fall trade, but I am sure it is way ahead, as the spring trade showed a decided increase over the corresponding period last year. Our business this fall has been unprecedented.

Moore Clothing company, Z. Y. Coleman—Through the months of July and August our business showed an increase of 50 per cent over last year and for September and October it was 30 per cent greater.

The Yellow Drug Store—We may say without exaggeration that our business has doubled within the last year.

North Yakima Furniture company, Jack Shaw—I can say without reservation that this year our trade is by far the best we ever had, but it would be even better if it were not for a string of rather peculiar circumstances, different in many ways from last year or the year before. The money for crops, particularly hops, hay and in a minor degree potatoes and apples, has not been received by the farmers

DIVISION POINT AT CLEALUM

Northern Pacific Will Move End of Division from Ellensburg.

The REPUBLIC learned yesterday, and the information comes direct from a high official in Northern Pacific circles, that the railroad company is preparing to make Clealum the end of this division, instead of Ellensburg. The change will be made in the near future. The roundhouses and shops will be moved, and Ellensburg will cease to be a railway point of any consequence.

The change has been contemplated for a long time past, and has often been discussed. Clealum is a much more convenient point for the end of the division on account of the fact that coal is mined there. Now the coal for the locomotives is all hauled in to Ellensburg. This is considered an unnecessary expense.

Another radical change will be made when Clealum becomes the division end. All trains going west will be made up there for the different sound cities, thus doing away with the switching and unpleasant delay at Auburn. In other words, trains will run direct from Clealum to Seattle and from Clealum to Tacoma and Portland.

It would seem that this move on the part of the Northern Pacific will put to rest the rumors about the Lind-Ellensburg cutoff.

It is reported also that if the business of this place continues to grow as it has in the past Yakima will be made a division end for freight traffic and possibly for the passenger service.

Cases in Superior Court.

The date to which any subscriber to the REPUBLIC has paid is each week stamped on the address label of his paper immediately after his name. He is thus enabled to calculate for himself at any time just how his subscription account stands. We respectfully request all subscribers to examine their address labels occasionally, and if they find errors they should report them at once to the publisher. A date more than one year old is a cordial invitation to the subscriber to visit the office at his convenience and make a settlement. We do not send bills to subscribers as the address label is in itself a weekly statement of account.

TUESDAY'S elections indicate a good, healthy growth of republican sentiment nearly everywhere. Expectations of republicans were more than realized in Ohio, New York and Maryland. Nebraska and Kansas seem to be permanently redeemed. In the former state Bryan made a vigorous attempt to get a majority, but it did not good.

The esteemed Oregonian objects to the ship subsidy plan because all the bounties paid out for building ships would go to rich men. Poor men build no ships, and so they get no part of the subsidy. The Oregonian has harped on this point so long that we should like to have it tell us what there is in it. It is not the question at issue whether we shall have the ships built? It is not whether we need or want the ships badly enough to offer men inducements to build them, if that is necessary? What difference does it make whether the subsidy goes to poor men or rich men?

An English magazine writer tells us that the European nations don't like the Monroe doctrine, and that they will ultimately get together to overthrow it. This is stuff and nonsense. The nations of Europe couldn't get together on anything. If they could, they wouldn't be likely to go after the Monroe doctrine. Some of them know that their interests, so far as they are concerned by that doctrine, are quite in accord with American interests, and they all know that the United States is now and will always be hereafter, powerful enough to enforce the rules laid down by Mr. Monroe.

YEARS and years ago, while abolition of slavery was still disputed, our ears were assailed every day with the sound of the fearful words "miscegenation" and "amalgamation." To most ears of this day they have become obsolete. But now these words are sounding again, or resounding, just because President Roosevelt asked a "nigger" whom the democrats of Alabama had sent to seek for offices for them to stay to dinner. But our daughters haven't "married niggers" because slavery was abolished, nor will they marry niggers because the president has broken bread with a nigger from Alabama, who happened to be the ablest and most distinguished citizen of that state, at the present time.—Oregonian.

THE late President McKinley was a hard smoker. The Philadelphia Medical Record, in an able review of the causes which led to his death, points out the effect of his use of tobacco. It says: "The effect of tobacco is to cause nervous over-action, which will in time lead to a hypertrophic condition of the heart. This hypertrophy in time naturally underwent changes of fatty infiltration and degeneration, and consequently dilatation. These may be accounted for by the increased obesity of the distinguished patient and the condition of arteriosclerosis to be expected in a man of his years, and affecting to some extent the coronary arteries. The effect of the long-continued general anaesthesia is not to be overlooked. It has been shown quite conclusively that blood inspersion, a condition of anhydremia, is present after etherization. The hemolysis of varying degrees occurs."

GREAT BRITAIN will consent to the abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, and is willing to substitute for it another which will enable the United States to build the Nicaraguan canal without the restrictions to which our people object. English statesmen recognize that the whole world would be benefited by the canal, and are not disposed to stand in the way. Speaking of the English expressions against the abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty at the time of the failure of the first Hay-Pauncefote treaty, one eminent English official said according to the dispatches: "We never really objected to the construction of the canal, but we did do object to the cavalier abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty. It was not what you want to do, but the nasty way you said it that was the chief reason for our opposition." There is force in this.

observation. Many American public men and newspapers seriously proposed last year that if England insisted upon her rights under the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, this country should proceed as though it had never bound itself by the treaty.

AN ELLENSBURG contemporary weeps because, it says, there are 500 cases of typhoid fever in the neighborhood of North Yakima; that the hospitals are full of typhoid patients, and that four of the doctors are down with the dread disease. The contemporary would please us better if it wept because it is a bungling liar. If there were 500 cases of typhoid fever in this neighborhood the inhabitants wouldn't have time to do anything but attend funerals, as under the most favorable circumstances from 8 to 15 per cent. of typhoid cases are fatal. As a matter of fact the number of deaths from all causes in North Yakima and vicinity, where there is a population of 9000 or 10,000, has not exceeded four in any week in the last six months, and the number of deaths from "fever," malarial typhoid, has not exceeded 8 in that time. There are now three cases of fever in the hospital, and no more. About a dozen cases are being treated outside of the hospital by all the physicians, and of these but three are admitted by the attending physician to be typhoid. The only physician of North Yakima who is not attending to his practice here is Dr. Fletcher, who is sick in Tacoma.

Yakima Greatly Surprised Him.

William H. Moyer, inspector for the department of justice, was here Monday, making an annual examination of the office of United States Commissioner. He found the records and office of Commissioner Howlett in excellent condition and complimented the colonel upon his administration. "My stop here is for nothing more than the regular routine of inspection," said Mr. Moyer to a reporter for the REPUBLIC, "so I do not know that there is anything more to say concerning it. I have passed through this place before but never have stopped until this trip. I had heard a good deal about Yakima and had tasted several delicious specimens of Yakima fruit, but I was totally unprepared to find such a thriving little city here. The many fine new buildings make the place seem of considerable importance and it apparently deserves to be called the metropolis of central Washington. The Yakima fruit has an incomparably fine flavor; much better than that of the California fruit, I think. There the different varieties grow large and have a finer appearance, but their cultivation tends to make them rank and in a measure destroys the flavor which is left unimpaired in the Yakima product. Speaking of weather, I never saw a more beautiful day than this (Monday) has been. It is ideal weather, with cool nights and bright sunny days. I shall gladly embrace any future opportunity to come to this valley."

Teachers' Institute.

A teachers' institute will be held in North Yakima the week beginning November 18th, and ending the 22nd. All schools in the county will be closed in order that the teachers may attend. The sessions will be held in the assembly room of the high school building. The complete program will be announced next week but at present it is known what instructors will be here. They are: President E. A. Bryan of the Washington university of Washington; Prof. Landes of the university of Washington; Principal Wilson, Miss L. P. Boggs and Miss Remmelle of the state normal school at Ellensburg and Prof. Blair of the Blair business college, Spokane.

Paul L. Strobach.

Paul L. Strobach, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Strobach, died in Spokane Saturday of meningitis. The remains were brought home Sunday and the funeral took place at the house the following day. The little boy was 15 months old. Despairing of his life on account of the strength of the disease, Mr. and Mrs. Strobach took him to Spokane Friday in hopes that medical aid in that city might be of some avail. The parents have the sympathy of a large circle of friends.

Hurt in a Runaway.

John Vosting, the 14 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Vosting of the west side, was trampled upon by horses in a runaway last Saturday afternoon and sustained several bruises and cuts about the head. He was hitching up a team at his father's place in Fruitvale when the animals became unmanageable, threw him to the ground and he thinks one of the horses stepped upon his head. He was unconscious for some time and was brought to his home in town before he received medical attention.

COL. MEDILL ON THE RESULT

He Tells How and Why it all Happened Last Tuesday.

"It's no use waiting for the freight train returns this year," mournfully observed Col. J. Democrat Medill yesterday. "That direful blight, McKimley prosperity, has spread over the entire country, from Maine to Texas. The people seem to have lost their heads, and the returns indicate that they have fallen over themselves to get under Mark Hanna's protecting wing. There's no use for argument about anything. I concede the whole kit and billy to the republicans. We didn't get a thing worth mentioning."

"The defeat of my friend Croker," continued the leader of the Yakima democrats, "is a severe blow to me; but 'twas ever thus, as one might say. Whenever a man begins to think he has a cinch, some artless reformer comes along and knocks it into a cocked hat. When I was in Kansas City attending the convention last year I had a long talk with Dick, who was also a delegate, and he told me that Tammany was good for 50,000 in New York city this year, but I see that the other fellows had a bigger majority than that. "Ohio has thrown us down pretty badly, too, and Gorman couldn't keep Maryland in line. Well, I expected that. Gorman is a weak sister, and his ideas of politics are antediluvian."

"The blow that killed father was dealt in Nebraska. It begins to look now as if our peerless leader is becoming passe, and if he doesn't have a streak of good luck pretty soon we shall have to get a new leader, peerless enough to do some business, as Jack Splawn says. Whether Aguinaldo was able to make a showing in the Philippines or not, is, of course, not yet known. Possibly he may have carried a few of the back districts, and if he has, this victory, with those in Mississippi and Kentucky, will be sufficient to keep a few of us together—enough, at any rate, to hold a primary or two next year."

"No, I didn't lose my money on this election. I am not the easy mark for the boys that I was once. Adversity has strengthened me, and has taught me that it is a losing game to back my judgment with money. I'll never make another bet; or, if I do, I'll hedge enough to come out even."

"Well, so long. I've got to go out and round up Snively and Joe Baxter and Preble, and see if they are still strong in the faith. You know it gives me the cold shivers once in a while to wake up in the morning and think that maybe one of these fellows has joined the republicans since the night before. Every man I lose now means a decrease of our voting strength of just 25 per cent."

Many Changes in 12 Years.

George Ferguson of San Francisco who has been here for several weeks looking after his property interests, says it may be some time yet before he returns to California. He is anxious to sell some of his land holdings before he makes any plans for the future. Mr. Ferguson at one time was a merchant in Yakima City and later returned to the county and was for several weeks looking after business matters in North Yakima. This was 12 years ago however. Until his arrival here the other day he had not been near the town since. "To say that I was surprised when I got off the train would be putting it mildly," said Mr. Ferguson. "I was astonished; why, I hardly knew the place at all. There was scarcely a land mark by which I could find my bearings. Everything had changed, and a metropolitan air pervaded the streets and business houses and made me think I was in a city several times the size I knew Yakima to be."

"Since my arrival I have had ample time to look around the town and country and I have found nothing to change my views unless it is to better them and make me more enthusiastic. It makes me want to come back here to live and if I am able to persuade Mrs. Ferguson I make the change I certainly shall do so."

"Am I thinking of investing money in buildings here? Possibly, but that I can not say positively until my business affairs become a little more settled."

Football Game.

The football team from the Klickitat academy will play the North Yakima high school team tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon on the Capitol hill grounds. Both elevens are in good trim and an exciting game is expected.

Knocked Down by a Team.

The six year old child of Mr. and Mrs. J. Kennedy was knocked down by a horse and came near to being killed on Yakima avenue in front of Roaf's drug store last Saturday afternoon about half past 3 o'clock. He was crossing the avenue and after coming from behind one wagon was almost instantly knocked down by a team traveling in an opposite direction. The driver saw the boy too late to avoid the accident but he pulled the horses back on their hind feet until the little fellow was lifted out of harm's way. He was carried into the drug store and Dr. Dulin looked after his injuries, which were not of a nature to cause alarm. His face was badly skinned, there was a slight cut on his head, and his chest was bruised. The shock was great and almost unnerved him. H. A. York, who was inside the drug store saw the boy knocked down and a second later saw him held of the horses hind hoof. He supposed that the horse had stepped on the lad's fingers. In a quarter of an hour he was taken to the Bartholot hotel where his parents are staying. Mr. Kennedy is the Frye-Brahn company's agent here.

Things That Do Happen

C. H. Bushnell has taken charge of E. E. James' photograph studio in Ellensburg.

The young people's whist club met Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Bessie Hall on south First street.

H. S. Collins, a well known railway man from Spokane, accompanied by his wife, was in Yakima Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The proprietors of the Naches market have put in a neat office in the south east corner of their building. It is so arranged that a window faces Second street.

Mrs. J. T. Browner of Toppenish arrived home on the early morning train Sunday from California, in which state she had been on a visit to friends. Her husband is one of the Toppenish potato kings.

Alexander D. Burnett, the representative of the Post-Intelligencer, who has been working the town and vicinity for several weeks, finished his rounds the first part of the week and moved on toward Spokane.

Miss Carrie Stewart, who is teacher in the primary department of the Ellensburg public schools, was in Yakima Saturday and Sunday on a visit to her parents, who live on Nob Hill. Miss Stewart is just returning to her work after nearly a month's sickness.

Congressman Jones arrived in the national capital last week with his family after journeying leisurely through the southern states and stopping at New Orleans and other cities on the way. Soon after he reached Washington he called upon President Roosevelt, who said he expected to come to the north-western states some time next year.

C. E. Lum came home from the mouth of the Yakima river last Friday and reports a catch of 29 salmon in the four days he was down there, two of which were so windy that fishing was out of the question. On the morning before he came to town he caught 14 of the big fish. The run is likely to continue for two or three weeks more.

A boy of about 16 years and his sister, who probably is three or four years older, reached Yakima last Sunday afternoon after the long journey from Spain, their native land. Their name is Erro, and strange to say the Christian name of both is Vincente, although there is a slight change of the pronunciation in the application. Neither of the young persons can speak a word of English so they found some difficulty in making themselves understood as none of their own people was at the station to receive them. They are related to Vincent Erro, a sheep man, and will make their home with him.

Pat Lynch came over from the Pullman agricultural college last week to spend a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Lynch.

Goldendale Sentinel: Two hundred and eighty nine pupils are now registered in the Goldendale public schools, the highest number ever reached.

Mrs. Stait of Blaine, who has been visiting for several weeks past at the Welch home on north Second street, left for her home last Saturday morning.

Roslyn Miner: Cle Elum is to have a newspaper of its own in three or four weeks. C. H. Haines and W. G. Lowery of North Yakima were among the visitors Monday.

Dr. Bugbee went to Prosser the first day of the week to inspect a band of sheep owned by Shearer & Lloyd and brought in from another county. The flock will be wintered near Prosser.

Ellensburg Localizer: A rich find of aragonite has been made by the Pico Free Milling and Mining company in its mine near the east entrance to the Stampede tunnel. Simon P. Whipple visited Phil A. Ditter in North Yakima this week.

Ellensburg Localizer: Mrs. O. C. Wagoner and Mrs. J. M. Cummins were visitors in Yakima last week. The superior court of Kittitas county convenes on Monday, November 4. The jury will be called on the 18th of the month.

Goldendale Agriculturist: Fred Shaw and wife of North Yakima are in Klickitat for a few weeks, as are also G. B. Palmer and wife. E. Moore, until recently of Goldendale, has purchased a section of land and taken a homestead in the Rattlesnake country.

G. H. Roush returned Monday to his home in Goldendale after a visit for a week in Yakima. Two years ago he was assistant principal of the Yakima high school. He says Goldendale, although not growing much just now, is a good town and has excellent prospects before it.

W. D. Farnsworth of Walla Walla visited all of last week at the Sherwood home on Nob Hill. He has been attending school in Walla Walla, but thinks seriously of coming to Yakima to live as he is much taken with the town and its surroundings.

Upon petition to School Superintendent Dickey the places of Frank Stevens and J. W. Henderson have been transferred on the county records from the Nob Hill school district to the School section. These places are within what is known as the School section but hitherto have formed a part of the Nob Hill school district.

There will be no teachers' examination in February, 1902, on account of a lack of funds in the state appropriated to conduct the examinations and examine the papers. Teachers who allow the November examination to pass will have no opportunity to try for certificates until May.

City Engineer Marble says that the Naches avenue sewer is nearly all relaid and the job probably will be completed before the end of this week. Taking the sewer up and putting it down required a good deal of labor, but now, with an occasional cleaning, it may be kept free from roots and other obstructions.

N. Compton of Webster City, Ia., has bought Sam Sadler's blacksmith shop on Yakima avenue near the Fashion barn. He will do all kinds of blacksmithing and repairing, but will make a specialty of shoeing horses. He has had 20 years experience at this work, and has shod some of the best track horses in the country.

The Northern Pacific has decided upon its annual order for new equipment for the coming year. The entire order comprises fifty locomotives of the largest class, ten first class sleepers, ten tourist cars, twenty first class coaches, four dining cars, six baggage cars, two thousand freight cars, one thousand flat cars, three hundred ballast cars and thirty cabooses. In addition the company will have many new cars built at its own shops. The volume of traffic is so heavy that in spite of $4,000,000 spent for rolling stock last year, facilities are still inadequate.

Those who heard Mr. Perry last year need no urging to avail themselves of the great opportunity to hear him again at the Presbyterian church Nov. 14th. Tickets $1, children under 10 half price.

THE INSPECTION OF MEAT

Dr. Bugbee Tells How This Branch of the Government is Carried On.

"The general public has no idea of how much trouble and expense the government goes in inspecting the numberless food products, meats, etc., in this country every year," says Dr. Bugbee, the government sheep inspector who is located at this place. "The bureau of animal industry, department of agriculture, spends something like $6,000,000 annually in inspecting meats and live stock alone, and employs between 500 and 600 men in that branch of the service."

"The government takes great care to see that the public receives nothing injurious either in the fresh meats turned out of the large packing houses or in the canned products of the same establishments," continued the doctor to a Republic reporter. "Aside from the careful inspection of all stock going into these packing houses there are inspectors stationed wherever needed all over the United States, whose duty it is to see that no diseased sheep, cattle or hogs are sent from one place to another. In this way the danger of communicating to the human species diseases that are either contagious or infectious is reduced to a minimum, and the efficiency of the service is attested by the fact that almost no evil results accrue from the use of these meats. The public has found that the government system of inspection, and rejection of meat unfit for consumption is thorough in all particulars. There is not the prejudice against canned meats in this country that there once was."

"Aside from the inspection department of the bureau there are a number of experimental stations where analyses are made of all kinds of food products in connection with tests of their nutritive values. Also experimental work is carried on extensively in these stations. There are several such establishments in the eastern states but none, I believe, farther west than Nebraska."

"The inspectors' work in a large packing house is systematically conducted and nothing unwholesome passes the eyes of the chief and his assistants. For example take Swift's St. Louis packing house, at which I was stationed two years ago. This establishment is not as large as the Chicago plant, which is the largest in the world, but it is of fair size."

"Immediately upon the arrival of the cattle in the stock pens an inspector goes through each bunch and marks with a purple tag each beef that is apparently sound. The lame or bruised ones are approximately marked so that they may be called to the attention of the men in the building. Those which are worthless are refused admittance to the packing house. They usually have been bought at a small fraction of the worth of sound animals, the buyers taking the risk of their passing muster. As a rule such beefs are used in the making of soap fat and kindred products."

"From the yards the cattle are driven into the slaughter house, where an inspector stands to watch the process of killing. The beefs are driven into separate pens and struck over the head with an axe. They fall from the pen to one side and are skinned and hung on a traveling rail and the entrails are removed. This is the process which is watched with the greatest care, as all diseases which the animal may have had manifest themselves here. There are 73 distinct diseases for which carcasses may be entirely rejected, and often a part of the flesh is condemned. The company's representatives sometimes beg hard that a carcass may be passed, and cases are known where trickery has been employed, but the inspectors do their duty and in late years the packing firms have guarded as carefully against the entrance of unwholesome meats as have the government's agents."

"The dressing is about complete after this process is over, and the big sides of beef are marked with the inspector's private brand. As a rule a better class of meat, that is fatter carcasses, are put upon the market fresh than that which is canned."

"The inspection in the hog and sheep departments is carried on much the same as that which I described and is equally as thorough."

Alexander Starrett and William White accompanied Deputy Marshal Dilley to Walla Walla Monday as guards for the federal prisoners.

C. H. Denly returned to town from Hot Springs Wednesday. On account of ill health he has been taking the baths at that place for two weeks.

Marriage licenses were issued the first three days of the week to James Albert Oates and Miss Daisy M. Keller; Andrew A. Mikota and Hanna P. Hunt; Marshall S. Scudder and Miss Anna Meyer.

Judge S. O. Morford returned here for a few days last week but went to Seattle Sunday and from there started east to visit his old home. Shortly after Thanksgiving, he will come back here and will go north again in January.

The case of Marion Tweedy vs. Abraham Greenwalt, an action for debt, was heard in the justice court Tuesday and a judgment of $10 found against the defendant. The case was appealed to the superior court. The plaintiff sued for $70 and the defendant's attorney presented a counter claim of $50.

Mary Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Taylor, died at the family home on south Second street Saturday, November 12, 1901, of meningitis. The funeral was held at the family home at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon and the remains were interred in Tacoma cemetery. Mary was born in Yakima in January, 1890.

County Commissioner Dimmick came to town from Kiona Wednesday to look after private business. His house has been quarantined for several weeks on account of small pox, but the two patients were entirely well a week ago. The contagion is supposed to have been left in the Kiona hotel by a man from the sound. All trace of the disease in Kiona is now stamped out.

The American Fraternal club initiated a large number of members Thursday night of last week and more last night. The club is meeting with unqualified success and is growing daily. Organizers are at work in almost every direction from North Yakima. The secretary of the superior club, Joel Shomaker, will take the field as soon as the first issue of the club paper is published, which will be in a few days. In his absence the office work will be done by Attorney Vestal Snyder, who is the club's legal adviser.

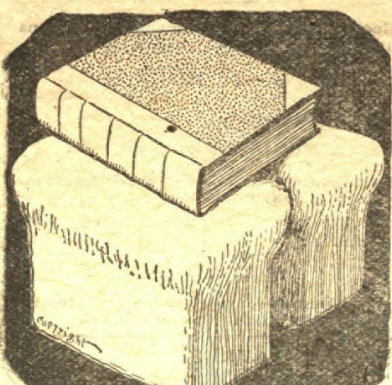

A small house south of the city limits belonging to M. Lusby was destroyed by fire between 7 and 8 o'clock Tuesday morning. Not being within the city limits an alarm was not turned in, but it is not likely that the department could have done any good, as the fire was under strong headway when discovered and the building was a long way from the engine house. Mrs. Lusby had started a fire in a heating stove up stairs and had gone out in the yard to feed the stock. Shortly after she heard the children screaming and discovered the upper part of the house in flames. Little of the household goods was saved. There was no insurance.

Lee Hart, the prominent Seattle attorney and politician, who came over to central Washington for the benefit of his health, returned to Yakima from the Wenatchee country Tuesday and after consulting with local gentlemen went on to Seattle the same day. Mr. Hart looked much better than he did when he first came over to this part of the state and began to lead an outdoor life. He says his brother-in-law, Mr. Prigmore, who remained in Wenatchee, also feels much better for the change of climate. Mr. Hart says they are figuring some on the Wenatchee irrigation scheme, and whether they take it up or not will continue to spend most of their time on this side of the mountains.

WOOL MARKET IS PROMISING

J. C. Lloyd Says Prospects for On-Coming Crop Best for Years.

J. C. Lloyd, the Ellensburg sheep owner who has extensive interests in Yakima, was in town receiving a train load of sheep from Montana Monday and in the course of a talk with a REPUBLIC reporter said that the prospects for good prices for the next crop of wool are better than they have been for years.

"Yes indeed, I am much encouraged at the outlook," continued Mr. Lloyd. "I believe next year will see the best wool market since the Dingley tariff went into effect. It is doubtful if ever before the last crop was so nearly all in the hands of the consumers as at present. The dealers' holdings amount to almost nothing. Last week in Boston twenty millions of pounds of wool changed hands, which is one of the largest sales on record."

"I do not mean to say that the price will be sky high, but I am satisfied that the growers will not have to accept a low figure for next year's clip."

"The sheep business this year has been, on the whole, good. Early in the year there were not so many lambs shipped east to be fed for the market as usual, largely because of the high cost of feed, but later the regular number was shipped and in addition enough to make up for the spring deficiency. Shippers may have made no exceptional advances, still it cannot be said that any shipment was a financial loss to the sender."

"Mr. Shearer and myself each shipped a train load of sheep here last week from Montana. Mr. Shearer's was unloaded at Prosser and mine at Roza. Both will be wintered in this valley. Mr. Shearer has Robert Hamilton's range."

"These sheep are for breeding stock. The reason we bring them in here from Montana is that such stock is high just now in Oregon and Washington and we can ship it to advantage."

The Scudder-Meyer Wedding.

St. Michael's Episcopal church Wednesday at noon was the scene of the nuptial ceremony uniting in marriage Capt. Marshall Scudder and Miss Anna Rebecca Meyer. The wedding was one of the most fashionable ones held in North Yakima within the year, and the church was thronged with the society people of the town. The bride was preceded up the aisle by her bridesmaid, Miss Bessie Scudder, and was met at the altar by the groom. The marriage service was read by Bishop Lemuel H. Wells of Spokane. Del Hisecock acted as best man.

The bride was given away by her brother, Court Meyer. She was dressed in ivory satin under real lace and carried a handsome bouquet of bride roses. The church was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums, smilax, fern and ivy. Mr. and Mrs. Scudder will be at home after November 25, in their Naches avenue residence.

Alexander McCoy, a half breed Indian was brought to town from The Dalles, Ore., by Constable Lawrence of Zillah on a charge of horse stealing. It is alleged that he stole a horse from Dr. McCracken of Zillah and rode across the country to The Dalles with it, in which place he was detained by the police. At his examination he was bound over to the higher court and will be tried in December.

The plans for the Odd Fellow's hall are being made by E. A. Bissell and as soon as they are completed bids on the construction will be called for. Messrs. McCafferty, Hartung and Frank are the trustees of the lodge and the erection of the temple will be under their immediate supervision. This is the first Odd Fellows' building to be built in the state.

To remove a troublesome corn or bunion, first soak the corn or bunion in warm water to soften it, then pare it down as closely as possible without drawing blood and apply Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice daily; rubbing vigorously for five minutes at each application. A corn plaster should be worn for a few days to protect it from the shoe. As a general liniment for sprains, bruises, lameness and rheumatism, Pain Balm is unequalled. Spreads Like Wildfire.

When things are "the best" they become "the best selling." Abraham Hare, a leading druggist, of Belleville, O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling bitters I have handled in 20 years." You know why? Most diseases begin in disorders of the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, hence cures multitudes of maladies. It builds up the entire system. Puts new life and vigor to any weak, sickly, rundown man or woman. Price 50c. Sold at the Yellow drug store.

A Village Blacksmith Saved His Little Son's Life.

Mr. H. H. Black, the well known village blacksmith at Grahamsville, Sullivan Co., N. Y., says: "Our little son, five years old, has always been subject to croup, and so bad have the attacks been that we have feared many times that he would die. We have had the doctor and used many medicines, but Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is our sole reliance. It seems to dissolve the tough mucous and by giving frequent doses when the croupy symptoms appear we have found that the dreaded croup is cured before it gets settled." There is no danger in giving this remedy for it contains no opium or other injurious drugs and may be given as confidently to a babe as to an adult. For sale at the Yellow drug store.

The Ownership to be Settled.

The four cornered controversy between the Northern Pacific, J. H. Needham, J. C. McCrimmon and the city of North Yakima is at last on the way to a speedy settlement. The fight involves the title to nearly all the land within the city limits south of the Central school. It is described as the  $\frac{1}{2}$  of the  $\frac{1}{2}$  and the  $\frac{1}{2}$  of the  $\frac{1}{2}$  of Sec. 19, township 13 north, range 19 east and has been in dispute for the last 17 years. It appears that Mr. McCrimmon on June 29, 1884, made application for a timber entry on the land but this was rejected and it was inured to the railroad company under the date of withdrawal June 11, 1879, the date of filing the map of the amended general route.

In due time McCrimmon took an appeal to the general land office. In 1885 the railroad company through Paul Schulze took the land and platted it into lots and blocks and sold it to divers persons who in good faith made improvements, paid taxes and supposed they had indisputable title.

In March 1887 the commissioner of the general land office affirmed the action of the local land office, whereupon McCrimmon took an appeal to the secretary of the department of the interior, who in 1887 awarded the land to the company. In 1888, the famous Guilford Miller case was decided by the secretary of the interior who held that there was no authority in law for filing a map of amended general route. Thereafter the company filed a motion for review, which was pending during the Harrison administration. The principle of the case was brought out in Cole vs. the Northern Pacific in June 1883. The Miller case was affirmed.

In 1891 J. H. Needham offered to file a homestead entry upon the land. McCrimmon appealed and the date of the definite location of the road on June 24, 1884. He served to accept the land from the grant. The secretary upheld this position and accorded Needham the right to file a homestead entry on the land.

Then McCrimmon made appeal to intervene and asked to have his application reinstated and to be accorded the preference right to file on the land. As soon as the city became apprised of this fact it made application to enter the land under the townsite law. The secretary ordered a hearing to determine the status of the road in the definite location of route, and the case was decided in favor of the city.

The company expected to bring action against McCrimmon and the city as soon as patent should issue to the city. McCrimmon too, interceded to bring action. The company has settled with McCrimmon and he has relinquished his claim. A petition was circulated Wednesday of this week by Attorney Ira M. Krutz and signed by all occupants of the land, asking the council to pass a resolution calling upon the secretary of the interior to have patent issued to the company. In this way all persons who secured a title from the railroad company will have ownership protected without further cost, delay, or litigation.

This seems an excellent way of adjusting the controversy. All those persons who bought lots of the company or who have been paying city taxes otherwise might have lost their land.

Wreck Below Prosser.

Tuesday about noon the Yakima switch engine, west bound, ran into the rear end of a freight train six miles below Prosser, the caboose and three flat cars were wrecked and two men sustained serious injuries. They are, Assistant Roadmaster Boudish of Spokane, ribs broken and shoulder bruised, and Conductor Fitch of Tacoma, back hurt and internal injuries. Both men will recover. Boudish was taken to his home and Fitch to the Fanny Paddock hospital in Tacoma.

The engine, which is a light one, had taken a train of cars to Pasco from Ellensburg and was returning to North Yakima. Rounding a curve it came upon the rear end of the freight train and before the engineer could stop a collision resulted. The men injured were inside the caboose. There were two or three other men in the car and it is surprising that they were not all killed. The caboose was reduced to kindling wood and the three cars will require a good many repairs. The pilot and the front work of the engine were torn off and it was sent to the repair shops.

Dr. Gunn, the railway physician, went to the scene of the wreck and looked after the injured men. The North Coast Limited was delayed five and one-half hours as a result of the smash up.

The switch engine had done a good deal of work that day. After doing the necessary switching about the yards here it went to Tappanish to do the switching there, then performed similar work in the Ellensburg yards and after that was ordered to Pasco.

City Election December 3.

The annual city election of mayor, councilmen, clerk and other city officers will be held on the first Tuesday in December, which falls on the 3rd. The registration books close on the 13th of this month, next Wednesday. So far no interest has been shown.

A pleasant Halloween party was held by the Christian Endeavor society last Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Carpenter.

Local News Boiled Down

E. W. Dooly was a sound visitor the first part of the week.

W. I. Huxtable of the west side is in Hastings, Neb., this week attending the 80th birthday celebration of his father.

D. J. Wynkoop returned to Yakima last Saturday after spending two years in Alaska. He did well in the gold fields, but is glad to get back home.

John Meade, Mrs. Davis and Miss Beat of Tappanish have bought the Guiland hotel of A. C. Bollenbach. They have cleaned and improved the place in many ways.

Mrs. A. P. Cochran, the wife of a Northern Pacific passenger conductor on the Pacific division, with her little son is spending the winter in North Yakima.

Last week the Yakima Land & Cattle Co. bought the McAlpin herd, consisting of 100 head of Hereford cattle. They will be wintered on the 8000 acre cattle ranch in the Rattlesnake country.

The report in circulation Wednesday that Dr. Fletcher, who is sick in Tacoma, was much worse and had been removed to a hospital, was unfounded. Both he and Mrs. Fletcher are rapidly recovering their health.

Mrs. Mauch, wife of Peter Mauch of Nob Hill, died Monday at the age of 40 years. The funeral was held from the Catholic church Wednesday morning and the remains were buried in the Catholic cemetery.

While loading a pack horse preparatory to starting overland for his home in Prineville, Ore., Samuel P. Sprinkle last Sunday morning was thrown to the ground and sustained a broken ankle. The animal became frightened and the halter rope was wrapped about Mr. Sprinkle's leg.

J. D. Cornett of the Yakima National bank will leave Yakima shortly on a six month's vacation trip for the benefit of his health. He expects to visit the leading health resorts of California and make the trip to Honolulu. In his absence Dr. W. H. Hare will act as cashier of the bank.

REPORT OF YAKIMA MARKETS

POTATOES.

The potato market shows little if any more life than it has for the last month. Dealers say it is a little weaker even and that they are not willing to pay more than $14 a ton. Some go so far as to predict a still further fall, but the majority believe that the bottom has been reached. It is not the general opinion that prices will change materially for some time to come, or at least until the present glutted condition of the sound and eastern markets is over. Sound dealers say that there is a great quantity of the product there now and that it will take time to get rid of the surplus. After the eastern part of the state is supplied at this time of the year there is no way of disposing of the over-stock to advantage. It is late in the season to ship extensively to Alaska.

The eastern market is much the same as that of the sound. Only one or two commission firms or their agents are sending any east from here. All the commercial centers are pretty well supplied, apparently, and there is little call for shipments from the Pacific coast. The duration of the over supply is predicted at various lengths of time but it is not probable that it will last all winter.

From this time on, as a general thing, few potatoes are shipped over the Rocky mountains because of the cold weather. Most shippers even now find that the frost damages the potatoes. But some dealers assert that they can ship all winter. The digging season is almost over and the quality continues good.

APPLES.

J. L. Johnson of Philadelphia, representing the wholesale commission firm of C. G. Justice & Co. was in the city Wednesday conferring with that firm's local representative. Concerning the eastern apple market Mr. Johnson said, "Conditions are such in the east that apples should bring a good price all winter. The crop is short in many of the apple producing localities of the country, but so far the quality of the fruit placed upon the market has, to a certain extent, kept the quotations within reason. A certain proportion of every crop is of an inferior quality, wormy, bruised, etc., and it seems that so far it is this almost entirely that has been on the market. The first grade product is still in the hands of the grower, waiting the height of the market or is in storage for the spring trade. I left Philadelphia a week ago and that was the condition of the market then."

"You ask me if Yakima fruit is looked upon with favor by the eastern dealers? Yes. Yakima fruit is all right. It compares to advantage with that produced any place in the United States. Our firm handles the product of the whole country from Cuba to Canada and from the Atlantic to the Pacific, so I have an opportunity of judging."

HOPS.

Several sales are reported this week at about the same quotations that have reigned for several weeks past, from 9 to 10 cents. The market is not active, however, and the sales are of small lots. One dealer said yesterday that the large firms are not buying heavily at all and where their local representatives last year received orders for four or five hundred bales a week they now do not receive that many in a month.

S. Huntington & Co. bought the John Hardy crop, 108 bales, at 9 1/2 cents and 21 bales of the Mel Shaw hops at 9 cents. Harry Hart for Louis Lachmund bought the William Wiley hops, 106 bales, and the Charles Kinney hops, at 10 cents.

Ben Hughes of the Ahtanum sold 75 bales at 10 cents. Outside reports do not particularly favor the growers. The market all over is sluggish and indications that a change for the better will occur cannot be called bright. Growers apparently are more willing to sell than heretofore but the demand is light. However many growers believe that prices must go up before long and say they will hold until spring. They say that the season is still young and many changes may come about before that time. The pool at Woodburn, Ore., has been formed and advances 9 cents a pound to the growers. Commission men say that this pool has had a depressing effect upon the market. It is estimated that one half of the Oregon crop is sold and one third shipped away.

A. F. Shores, a well known hop buyer, is in town this week. He says that with one exception he never knew the Yakima growers to have so many hops on hand at this time of the year. He was in Puyallup last week and says most of the hops raised there have been sent to London on consignment.

Death of H. H. Kampeter.

Henry H. Kampeter, an old resident of this valley and well known to the majority of Yakima people died at his home north of town Monday evening of malarial fever. He was 55 years of age. The funeral was held from the house at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. He was sick about one week.

Mr. Kampeter was known as a fine gardener and for a number of years past has made a specialty of potatoes. At an immense amount of labor and expense he competed for the county exhibit at the state fair. He won the second prize, but the great variety of products in his exhibit probably attracted more attention than all the other county exhibits together.

The Kampeter family has been particularly unfortunate. During the summer a son, Henry, was struck by the cars and instantly killed while on his way home early one morning. The mother has been an inmate of the Medical Lake asylum for several years and a report was received but a few days ago saying that her condition is serious and it is not likely that she will long survive her husband. Mr. Kampeter's death leaves four children, Florence, Reta, Fred and Claude.

NEWS OF THE COUNTY

FRUITVALE.

Charles Perry and C. W. Nash are picking their apples.

D. Weddle is down from the mountains for the winter.

W. L. Wright has picked 600 boxes of apples, has 500 in boxes out in his orchard and is not through picking yet.

John Garrecht has dug over 2100 sacks of marketable potatoes on his Selah ranch and this is only a part of the out put of the ranch.

With all the spraying done in this valley the past two years, the San Jose scale is making more or less inroads in several of the largest orchards. The codlin moth, too, has hurt fruit, but these pests have gotten in their work mostly where there was little or no spraying done.

LOWERNACHES.

Mrs. George Chapman is on the sick list this week.

The Ladies aid will meet with Mrs. Neymire, November 13th.

Maggie McGee is unable to attend school this week on account of sickness.

Cliff Cleman's youngest son, Jack, has been very low with fever but is reported out of danger.

Mr. Brown who has been living at John Nelson's place, moved his family to the Cowiche last week.

Rev. Mr. Slator is to assist in the protracted meetings that are to be held in Selah commencing November 10th, also Rev. Mr. Carmichael and others.

A pleasant Halloween party was held at Mrs. A. McGee's last Friday evening. Thirty-four responded to the invitations. The evening passed pleasantly with games and refreshments.

There will be a basket social at the school house on Thanksgiving eve, the proceeds to be used to buy an organ for the school. A nice programme is being prepared by the teacher, Miss Parker. Every body is invited.

Sam Sadlier Killed.

Samuel Sadlier, who for a year or more had conducted a blacksmith shop on east Yakima avenue, was thrown from a trestle near Kent, a station a few miles this side of Seattle, Sunday night and was so badly injured that he died from the effects. He was walking along the trestle at 10:15 when he was struck by the North Coast limited and hurled down to the ground where he lay on the damp earth for three hours. He was then taken to Kent and his arm, which had been badly mangled, was amputated, from the effects of which he died about 10 o'clock.

Mr. Sadlier was 35 years of age. He was a member of a Tacoma lodge of Old Fellows. He was unmarried and leaves a mother who lives in this place. A few days ago he bought the G. L. Allen dwelling on the west side.

Mrs. E. B. Moore underwent a successful operation in Chicago this week and is reported to be rapidly regaining strength. It was largely for having the operation performed that she went east a few weeks ago.

A missionary tea was given Wednesday evening by the Missionary society of the Methodist church at the home of Mrs. Walter J. Reed.

Killed in a Scuffle.

Jack Hefford, generally known along the railroad as "Big Jack," was shot in a fight on the platform of the Ellensburg station by a brakeman named Smith last Saturday evening about 6 o'clock. He died the following morning. Hefford was a fireman for the Northern Pacific and was pretty well known here as he spent a good deal of time in this place about a year ago and at that time boasted that he would fire a switch engine in the Yakima yards before many moons. His home was in Ellensburg.

Things That Do Happen

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shaw have returned home from their visit to Goldendale.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Darling went to Seattle Monday and will make their home in that place.

Claude Briggs was able to be about the streets Saturday after his fall from a bicycle the previous week.

Sunnyside Sun: W. H. Neale has the banner potato field. It is yielding over 15 tons to the acre. Last spring he bought one sack of Salinas Burbanks and now has dug over four tons from that seed. The Ladies' Aid has purchased a 450 pound bell for the school house.

Clyde Clancey came over from Tacoma Monday morning to superintend the decoration of St. Michael's church for the Scudder-Meyer wedding Wednesday. Mr. Clancey was the recipient of many compliments upon the tastefulness of the work. While here he was the guest of his aunt, Mrs. Edward Whitson.

Sunnyside Sun: Elder D. B. Eby goes to North Yakima today to confer with members of the German Baptist church there regarding the purchase or lease of a building in which to hold church services. Messrs. Harrison and Lichty have about completed some important real estate transfers with parties who represent an aggregate wealth of $125,000.

Deputy Marshall A. L. Dilley with assistants Monday night took 14 United States prisoners to Walla Walla for trial before the United States district court. All the prisoners are charged with selling whisky to Indians or unlawfully having liquor in their possession while on the reservation. Since their arrest they have been held in the county jail.

Robert Allen, who spent most of last winter here, has bought a 20 acre ranch west of town and will live thereon. Miss Childs, arrived here Sunday from the family home in Dayton, S. D., and will also make her home in Yakima. Mr. Allen, father of the man referred to, has bought a 160 acre ranch 14 miles from town and will come west in two or three weeks with the remainder of the family. He paid $10,000 for the place.

Sunnyside is to have a town well. The public spirited citizens have subscribed sufficient money to sink a well on the corner of Mayhew avenue and Sixth street. It will be a dug well with cement curbing and supplied with a good pump. It is now proposed to organize a bucket brigade, buy a lot of pails and store at some central point and thus be prepared, in a measure, to fight fire when such a calamity overtakes the village.

Father Grive, who has been connected as missionary with the Yakima parish of the Catholic church for several years past, has been succeeded by Father Parodi of Alaska and has been transferred to other fields. He says the church work under his care is in a flourishing condition and it is with feelings of regret that he hands it over to his successor. A fine church building has been erected in Prosser recently under his supervision. When he left here Monday afternoon he did not know at what place he would be stationed.

For Sale.

Judge L. T. Erwin went to the sound last Friday for a stay of a few days.

Del Thorp, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Thory of Fruitvale, returned to Yakima from Alaska last week.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Fechter entertained a Halloween party last Thursday evening at their home on Naches avenue.

Rev. S. J. Harrison of Sunnyside came up to the county seat on business last Friday and returned home the same day.

Bert Coburn, the manager of the St. Paul & Tacoma Lumber company's yard at Mabton, has been relieved for a few days on account of sickness.

Mrs. Wiswell returned to her home in Seattle last Saturday. She visited for two weeks at the homes of her brothers, Edward and A. B. Whitson.

Dan Goodman, the well known sheep man, has moved with his family to Kiona for the winter. His sheep are near that place and he goes there to give them his personal attention.

J. Kennedy and family of Seattle have come to Yakima to make their home. Mr. Kennedy will buy cattle and sheep here for the Fyfe-Bruhn company of Seattle.

Last Friday night Capt. Marshall Scudder gave a dinner to his bachelor friends at the home of Del Hiscock in the Moxee, the occasion being the captain's farewell to bachelorhood.

After spending most of last week in Tacoma Rev. Mr. Cheal returned to Yakima Friday and went on to Sunnyside the same day to hold services Sunday in the Episcopal church.

General Land Agent Phipps of the Northern Pacific was in town all of last Friday with two or three clerks and stenographers and a special car. He went on to the sound early Saturday morning. Mr. Phipps spent the time riding about the country within a few miles of town. When asked by a reporter what he was here for he replied that he was here for the day, and that there was no "story" to be made from his stop in Yakima.

Roslyn Miner: The output of the Northwestern Improvement company's coal mines for the month of October was the largest in their history. It was 96,000 tons and would have been over 100,000 tons had there been cars in which to move a larger output. There has been some excitement during the last week in regard to the rumor that the western terminus of the Idaho division of the Northern Pacific may be moved to Clealum. Two division superintendents have been there within a week looking over the ground.

The Selah & Moxee company will raise the price of water under the new ditch to $35 an acre after January 1, 1902. This is made necessary by the rapid increase in land values in the Moxee valley.

Charles Simmons will return to Yakima from Alaska in a few days. He will remain here during the winter.

E. E. Kelsa went to Walla Walla last Friday and returned Sunday with Mrs. Kelsa who had been visiting in that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Sarvant, of Tacoma, who are now on a wedding tour in California, will come to Yakima to live upon their return.

William Bradshaw, one of the prisoners taken to Walla Walla, was discharged Wednesday as the grand jury failed to find a true bill against him.

James Donald of Spokane is visiting his relatives and renewing his acquaintance with his many Yakima friends after an absence of five years from the town.

J. M. Perry has on exhibition in his warehouse five potatoes, the combined weight of which is 12 pounds. They were grown by Mr. Courtwright of Yakima city.

Will Watt, a young man who came to Yakima from Chehalis recently, to work in the REPUBLIC office, returned to his home for a three days' visit last Friday morning.

The side track south of town was finished this week and Contractor Burlingame took his outfit to Toppenish, where he has the contract for putting in another long siding.

The Seattle and Walla Walla high school foot ball teams have challenged the Yakima high school team to games in the near future. It is probable that the preliminaries will be arranged and the contests held.

The Rockwood Creamery team again ran away last Friday forenoon and the wagon was badly damaged. Three times the same horses have run away recently and each time they have started from the same place in the western part of town.

Charles Merwin has been sick for the last three weeks in his room in the Cadwell building, but he is now somewhat better. Last Friday his condition was such that his friends sent for his mother and grandmother who were visiting in Seattle.

Prosser Recorder: County School Superintendent S. A. Dickey was in town Friday visiting the schools. George Pierce and sons have commenced excavating for the basement of C. A. Jensen's new store building from the Jensen quarry one mile east of town.

Prosser Recorder: More sheep are coming to this part of the country this season than ever before. In the history of the sheep business, "Already there are 30 sheep men headed this way, and their flocks will aggregate 200,000 head."

Supervisor Nichols of the Mt. Rainier forest reserve has made out his report for the season just closed, to be forwarded to Superintendent Sheller. In it he states that 257,000 head of sheep, 5652 head of cattle and 240 head of horses were upon the reserve during the summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cox came to Yakima from their home in Oregon the latter part of last week. Mr. Cox went on to the sound the first of this week but Mrs. Cox will stay here for three or four weeks with her father, Col. L. S. Howlett, and her sister, Mrs. S. J. Cameron.

Dr. Frank Lemon of Elk Creek, Cal., who is in Yakima on a visit to his parents, will be here most of this month. He was doing hospital work in Idaho before going to California, but finds the change most satisfactory and he has an established practice of good proportions in Elk Creek.

The "Mikado" building has been moved from the Odd Fellows' property at the corner of Yakima avenue and Third street to a lot adjoining on the east. This allows the Odd Fellows to go to work right away on the foundation of their building. Mr. Hoffman is selling the Mikado fixtures and furniture and will retire from that business.

The Western Union Telegraph company installed an A. D. T. system in Yakima on the first of November and now one of the messenger boys may be summoned at any time to deliver messages, do errands, etc. In a few days, probably the first of next week, a high official of the company will be here and will establish a number of branch offices about the town which will be placed in electrical communication with the central office. It is probable that this will be moved into more commodious quarters and when the contemplated improvements are made it will have more of a metropolitan appearance.

Superintendent Sheller's Report.

Forest Reserve Superintendent Sheller in his last report to the department says that in August the forest reserves and other timber lands suffered worse from fires than in any other month on record. The total burned area was 6485 acres. The month was an exceptionally dry one which, of course, facilitated the spread of the fires.

There were 47 small fires extinguished by rangers; 25 extinguished after gaining considerable headway; three large and important fires; 670 acres of live timber burned; 1167 acres of live timber damaged etc. etc.

The cause of the fires in the reserves is attributed to the following agencies: campers, 17; Indians, 15; locomotive sparks, 13; clearing and burning brush wood, 6; prospectors, 2; miners, 1; and 18 had unknown origins.

I. M. Krutz vs. Wash. Irr. Co.

The case of Ira M. Krutz against the Washington Irrigation company was decided last week by Judge Hanford of the United States district court in favor of Mr. Krutz. It involved the perpetual water right to 320 acres of land under the Sunnyside canal, so is worth from $8000 to $10,000 to the winner.

While Mr. Krutz was register of the local land office he called the attention of Mr. Shultz, the president of the ditch company and also the western land agent of the Northern Pacific, to the fact that a large tract of land would be lost to the ditch company if immediate steps were not taken to save it. In consideration for this service Mr. Krutz was offered 160 acres of land under the ditch, which he did not feel at liberty to accept until his term of office had expired. Then instead of the land he obtained a water right to 320 acres upon the further consideration of deeding to the company a certain amount of land. This was but partly done when the ditch company was re-organized and became the Washington Irrigation company. The remainder of the land then was deeded to the new company, which was unwilling to give Mr. Krutz this water right because it (the new company) had received but a part of the land agreed upon in the original contract. The court held that Mr. Krutz is entitled to the water notwithstanding.

C. H. Denly returned to town from Hot Springs Wednesday. On account of ill health he has been taking the baths at that place for two weeks.

Marriage licenses were issued the first three days of the week to James Albert Oates and Miss Daisie M. Keller; Andrew A. Mikota and Hanna P. Hunt; Marshall S. Scudder and Miss Anna Meyer.

Judge S. O. Morford returned here for a few days last week but went to Seattle Sunday and from there started east to visit his old home. Shortly after Thanksgiving, he will come back here and will go north again in January.

The case of Marion Tweedy vs. Abraham Greenwalt, an action for debt, was heard in the justice court Tuesday and a judgment of $10 found against the defendant. The case was appealed to the superior court. The plaintiff sued for $70 and the defendant's attorney presented a counter claim of $50.

Mary Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Taylor, died at the family home on south Second street Saturday, November 2, 1901, of meningitis. The funeral was held at the family home at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon and the remains were interred in Tahoma cemetery. Mary was born in Yakima in January, 1890.

County Commissioner Dimmick came to town from Kiona Wednesday to look after private business. His house has been quarantined for several weeks on account of small pox, but the two patients were entirely well a week ago. The contagion is supposed to have been left in the Kiona hotel by a man from the sound. All trace of the disease in Kiona is now stamped out.

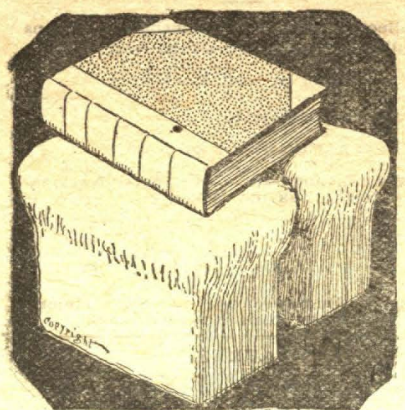

The American Fraternal club initiated a large number of members Thursday night of last week and more last night. The club is meeting with unqualified success and is growing daily. Organizers are at work in almost every direction from North Yakima. The secretary of the superior club, Joel Shomaker, will take the field as soon as the first issue of the club paper is published, which will be in a few days. In his absence the office work will be done by Attorney Vestal Snyder, who is the club's legal adviser.

A small house south of the city limits belonging to M. Lusby was destroyed by fire between 7 and 8 o'clock Tuesday morning. Not being within the city limits an alarm was not turned in, but it is not likely that the department could have done any good as the fire was under strong headway when discovered and the building was a long way from the engine house. Mrs. Lusby had started a fire in a heating stove up stairs and had gone out in the yard to feed the stock. Shortly after she heard the children screaming and discovered the upper part of the house in flames. Little of the household goods was saved. There was no insurance.

Lee Hart, the prominent Seattle attorney and politician, who came over to central Washington for the benefit of his health, returned to Yakima from the Wenatchee country Tuesday and after consulting with local gentlemen went on to Seattle the same day. Mr. Hart looked much better than he did when he first came over to this part of the state and began to lead an outdoor life. He says his brother-in-law, Mr. Prigmore, who remained in Wenatchee, also feels much better for the change of climate. Mr. Hart says they are figuring some on the Wenatchee irrigation scheme, and whether they take it up or not will continue to spend most of their time on this side of the mountains.

WOOL MARKET IS PROMISING

J. C. Lloyd Says Prospects for On-Coming Crop Best for Years.

J. C. Lloyd, the Ellensburg sheep owner who has extensive interests in Yakima, was in town receiving a train load of sheep from Montana Monday and in the course of a talk with a REPUBLIC reporter said that the prospects for good prices for the next crop of wool are better than they have been for years.

"Yes indeed, I am much encouraged at the outlook," continued Mr. Lloyd. "I believe next year will see the best wool market since the Dingley tariff went into effect. It is doubtful if ever before the last crop was so nearly all in the hands of the consumers as at present. The dealers' holdings amount to almost nothing. Last week in Boston twenty millions of pounds of wool changed hands, which is one of the largest sales on record."

"I do not mean to say that the price will be sky high, but I am satisfied that the growers will not have to accept a low figure for next year's clip."

"The sheep business this year has been, on the whole, good. Early in the year there were not so many lambs shipped east to be fed for the market as usual, largely because of the high cost of feed, but later the regular number was shipped and in addition enough to make up for the spring deficiency. Shippers may have made no exceptional margins, still it cannot be said that any shipment was a financial loss to the sender."

"Mr. Shearer and myself each shipped a train load of sheep here last week from Montana. Mr. Shearer's was unloaded at Prosser and mine at Roza. Both will be wintered in this valley. Mr. Shearer has Robert Hamilton's range."

"These sheep are for breeding stock. The reason we bring them in here from Montana is that such stock is high just now in Oregon and Washington and we can ship in to advantage."

The Scudder-Meyer Wedding.

St. Michael's Episcopal church Wednesday at noon was the scene of the nuptial ceremony uniting in marriage Capt. Marshall Scudder and Miss Anna Rebecca Meyer. The wedding was one of the most fashionable ones held in North Yakima within the year, and the church was thronged with the society people of the town. The bride was preceded by the aisle by her bridesmaid, Miss Bessie Scudder, and was met at the altar by the groom. The marriage service was read by Bishop Lemuel H. Wells of Spokane. Del Hiscok acted as best man.

The bride was given away by her brother, Court Meyer. She was dressed in ivory satin under real lace and carried a handsome bouquet of bride roses. The church was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums, smilax, fern and ivy. Mr. and Mrs. Scudder will be at home after November 25, in their Naches avenue residence.

Alexander McCoy, a half breed Indian was brought to town from The Dalles, Ore., by Constable Lawrence of Zillah on a charge of horse stealing. It is alleged that he stole a horse from Dr. McCracken of Zillah and rode across the country to The Dalles with it, in which place he was detained by the police. At his examination he was bound over to the higher court and will be tried in December.

The plans for the Odd Fellow's hall are being made by E. A. Bissell and as soon as they are completed bids on the construction will be called for. Messrs. McCafferty, Hartung and Frank are the trustees of the lodge and the erection of the temple will be under their immediate supervision. This is the first Odd Fellows' building to be built in the state.

A Village Blacksmith Saved His Little Son's Life. Mr. H. H. Black, the well known village blacksmith at Grahamsville, Sullivan Co., N. Y., says: "Our little son, five years old, has always been subject to croup, and so had have the attacks before that we have feared many times that he would die. We have had the doctor and used many medicines, but Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is our sole reliance. It seems to dissolve the tough mucus and by giving frequent doses when the croupy symptoms appear we have found that the dreaded croup is cured before it gets settled." There is no danger in giving this remedy for it contains no opium or other injurious drugs and may be given as confidently to a babe as to an adult. For sale at the Yellow drug store.

Mrs. Dr. Owens Adair. Office over Coffin Bros' store. Special attention will be given, as heretofore, to diseases of women and children. Also confinement and surgical cases.

Well, I don't know but I think if you ever get that old watch repaired you will have to take it to Keene. Well I guess yes. Everybody else has had a crack at it now.

That Throbbing Headache. Would quickly leave you, if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for Sick and Nervous Headaches. They make pure blood and build up your health. Only 25 cents. Money back if not cured. Sold at the Yellow drug store.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets cure biliousness, constipation and headache. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. For sale at the Yellow drug store.
