

July 18, 1959

Chief, California Highway Patrol,
State Patrol Headquarters,
Sacramento, Calif.

(refer to public relations)

Dear Sir:

In line with my newspaper work and also a safety project that has the potential of involving California and motorists, would you please send me a copy of a California driver's manual (a booklet containing driving rules and regulations?)

If the booklet, or one the department might possess for distribution to me contains U.S. standard highway signs (shapes, designs and colors) this would be especially appreciated.

To your knowledge do you know of any simplified game that teaches fundamentals of driving safety through carrying out of the game? By game I mean something in printed or "manufactured" form.

Sincerely

Click Relander