Dear Mr. Rolander

It was a pleasure to visit with you & your wife in Mabton Sunday.

We admired your bronze figures in the museum at Nanapum so very much that it was disturbing to hear your comment that the cost of casting was so great to be prohibitive. We would love to have an Indian figure, such as the picture you showed us, but cost is prohibitive.

It was certainly a coincidence that the enclosed article appeared in last Sunday's Santa Fe newspaper. Maybe this is an avenue which would result in lower costs. If you are interested I am sure an inquiry to the Hambe Mills in Pojoaque, N.M., would provide the answers.

We think we have found a house for our daughter Margi & she will be moving over here to start summer quarters on June 19th at the U. of Wash.

Hope you are enjoying your new books.

Cordially - Carl Connell
