Mr. Click Relander,
Yakima Morning Herald,
Yakima, Washington.

Dear Mr. Relander:

I thoroughly enjoyed reading your story in the Sunday Herald
"Historic Olmstead Cabin Symbol of Area's Progress". It is very well written and contains a wealth of interesting history of the Kittitas Valley and surrounding area.

Having owned the old Cottonwood Ranch of the Yakima Sheep Company on the West Side of the Yakima River which ran North over Umptanum Ridge to the Kittitas Valley through which ran the old Durr Stage Road, presently owning the area through which the old road from Moxee proceeds North up Kittitas Canyon over Yakima Ridge it is interesting to me.

I always enjoy reading articles of this kind based on facts and true events from the history of the Pacific Northwest.

With kindest personal regards, I am

Very truly yours,

Mr. Click Relander,
#1212 N. 32nd Ave.,
Yakima, Washington.

Dear Click:

Your letter enclosing promotion sheet "Strangers on the land" was received while I was in California. I know this story is extremely interesting as I have read so many of your stories about the Yakima tribe. We ran sheep on the reservation for many years and I have a high regard for the Yakima Indians. Never remember having any trouble with them. I would rather deal with them than with many white men.

I am enclosing check for $2.25 for a copy and will do what I can to see that more are sold.

With kindest personal regards, I am

Very truly yours,
