FOR RELEASE: On Receipt

Visitors to Montana will have a delightful assortment of vacation events, and plenty of interesting places to go, for the 1967 summer season.

Two hundred and six rodeos, fairs, parades and other colorful local celebrations are listed in the new Montana Vacation Events just released by the Montana Chamber of Commerce.

General Custer and the Crow Indians relive again for visitors - the Re-enactment of Custer's Last Stand, Custer Battlefield Monument.

Another section of the folder lists sightseeing potentials which include scenic, recreational and historical sights in various parts of this huge recreational arena.

Unusual events, typical of Montana, are numerous organized wilderness walks for family participation, and O-Mok-Sees or competitive games on horseback.

Montana is big on summer theaters listed in several areas, some playing Broadway shows and some old melodramas.
