THE YAKIMA DEMOCRAT.

JOHN DAVID MEDILL.

Editor and Publisher.

Entered at the North Yakima Postoffice as Second-Class Matter.

One Dollar Per Year—In Advance.

Published every Saturday morning at the Democrat Printing House on First Street, North Yakima, Washington.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF NORTH YAKIMA.

THE editor of the esteemed Localizer at Ellensburg seems to grind his teeth and tear his shirt in expressing his indignation over a harmless local article that appeared in this paper two weeks ago relative to the big canal which the people of that town have been engaged in building—on paper—for 10, these many years. In the article referred to, we mentioned the fact that Mr. Black, after investigating the essential question of water rights had "passed up" the proposition as he found that the waters of the Yakima river were already practically all appropriated. In a brief comment on the situation, this paper further stated that certain Ellensburg people did not seem to understand that they were from 10 to 15 years too late in attempting to float such a scheme. By this we meant without resorting to storage.

This brief hint at the truth has thrown the new editor of the Localizer into a conniption fit from which he bids fair to emerge with a light head. We are accused of "rank animosity" of gloating over the misfortunes of our neighbors and of other unchristian conduct. Incidentally, the people of North Yakima are accused of assuming to hold "a blanket mortgage on the waters of the Yakima river from source to mouth."

The new editor of the Localizer, recently from Roslyn, is evidently more familiar with the subject of digging coal than he is with the complicated question of water rights. But he will doubtless learn if he continues to live in Ellensburg.

In all seriousness, we wish to state that this paper has no feeling of animosity toward Ellensburg, nor do we believe have the people of this city. On the contrary, the people of North Yakima would like to see the people of our sister city prosper. We would like to see Ellensburg build the big ditch which that town, without doubt, sadly needs. Still, as every well informed man ought to know by this time, neither Ellensburg nor Yakima can build and operate any more big ditches without first considering the question of storage reservoirs, the people of Yakima are ready at any time to co-operate with the people of Ellensburg to settle that question to their mutual interests.

Instead of bitterly fighting any and all reservoir propositions, as the Kittitas members did in the last legislature, the people of that county should encourage reservoir construction for in the storage system lies their only hope of redeeming their sage brush lands and make the desert blossom as the rose.

A FUND of nearly $500 was raised this week from generous hearted citizens of North Yakima and vicinity for the relief of the flood stricken people of Heppner, Ore.

Those who contributed probably feel no poorer for having done so, but if they do they have the satisfaction of knowing that their money will be expended in a good cause for it will be used promptly to relieve the distress of the unfortunate people of Heppner who without warning were overwhelmed by the forces of nature that has proved to be one of the greatest disasters of modern times; a disaster that has cost nearly three hundred human lives and left a terrible scene of misery and desolation in its wake.

The work of gathering the local relief fund was not begun as soon as it should have been, but the people or rather the majority of those who were solicited, responded promptly and liberally. The work of soliciting was done hurriedly and, of course, a great many people were not given an opportunity to contribute. Any of those missed who feel that they would like to add their mite to aid in relieving the distress at Heppner can do so by leaving or sending their contribution to this office or to any one of the three banks of this city.

THE DEMOCRAT is indebted to Prof. Landes, state geologist, for a copy of his very valuable report for the year 1902, which is a welcome addition to our library. This report is a comprehensive volume of 440 pages in two parts, treating of the building and ornamental stone and a description of the coal resources of the state exhaustively under separate heads.

This report is of practical value, due to the fact that the product of the different quarries and coal fields of the state visited by the author have been very carefully analyzed. We are somewhat disappointed, however, in finding no reference to the very promising coal fields of western Yakima county in this interesting volume and would respectfully suggest to Prof. Landes the advisability of an investigation of this district to be included in his next report.

U. S. GRANT, JR., of San Diego, Cal., gives out the information through the press that he would like to run for vice-president on the ticket with Mr. Roosevelt. Well, of course. The public took that for granted without any assurance from Mr. Grant. There is no danger though that young Mr. Grant's name will be seriously considered, by anybody besides himself. The magic of his name is not going to help him. The people have not forgotten that it was "Buck" Grant's shady financial transactions that ruined his old father and brought him down in sorrow to the grave.

Until "Buck" does something to retrieve himself he would do well to keep quiet.

THE San Francisco Argonaut says that shortly before his death, Thomas B. Reed was the center of a group at the Century club in New York. The talk got around to Roosevelt. "Y-a-a-s, I admire Roosevelt very much," drawled Mr. Reed. "I admire him very much indeed. What I admire most about him is his enthusiasm over his discovery of the ten commandments."

Gov. McBride is being roasted to a turn by a number of republican papers for having summarily fired Supt. Westendorf of the Chehalis reform school in order, as charged, to make room for a political henchman.

If the governor had "good reasons" for removing Supt. Westendorf, he ought to take the public into his confidence and state his reasons. For the governor and his board of control to remain silent under the circumstances is equivalent to casting reproach upon the character and manhood of Westendorf, which in view of his long and splendid service as manager of the reform school seems to be undeserved.

It should be borne in mind that Westendorf, although a republican, was allowed to retain his position for five years by John R. Rogers, the fusion governor of this state. Tremendous pressure was brought to bear upon Gov. Rogers by office seekers of his own party to remove Westendorf, but this the governor refused to do for the reason that he regarded the recently deposed superintendent as the right man in the right place.

In view of all the facts in the case, the conclusion seems irresistible that the accidental governor is playing politics and is simply using this important office with which to reward a personal henchman. If this was Mr. McBride's object, probably no one would find great amount of fault, if he would frankly avow it. As it is, instead of explaining why he lopped off the official head of a trusted public servant, he contents himself by merely casting reflections either upon the integrity or ability of Mr. Westendorf, which the latter and his friends find very hard to bear.

LESLIE MATLOCK, the hero of the Heppner disaster, by his thrilling night ride at breakneck speed saved the lives of several hundred people below that stricken town, who without the timely warning would have been caught by the devouring flood like rats in a trap. At such speed did young Matlock ride that the two horses that carried him a distance of over 20 miles, dropped dead at his feet from sheer exhaustion.

The name and fame of Leslie Matlock deserves to live in song and story.

WITHIN 50 or 60 miles of North Yakima in the Cascades are situated what are believed to be among the most valuable coal fields in the United States, awaiting development of capital. What is most needed, of course, is transportation facilities, for without a railroad the great beds of coal known to exist there are practically worthless. Let the people of this city wake up to their opportunities and keep agitating the subject until a railroad is built to these coal fields.

YORK (Neb.) DEMOCRAT: Republican papers are urgently insisting that Grover Cleveland is the only man the democrats can elect to the presidential chair. Well, if the republicans are bound to have Cleveland nominated by the democratic party perhaps they will sanction the nomination of Mark Hanna as his running mate, and should they be selected we would have a pair to open any trust jack-pot.

The doctrine of the republican party was well summed up in the statement of Mr. Baer, one of the coal barons, when he said: "The rights and interests of the laboring man will be protected and cared for not by labor agitators, but by the christian men to whom God, in his infinite wisdom, has given control of the property interests of the country."

The DEMOCRAT is in receipt of Vol. 1, No. 1 of the Independent published at Chehalis, Stevens county, by W. H. Brownlow and sons, formerly of the Record at Prosser. It is a bright and newsy eight-page paper, independent in politics. The DEMOCRAT extends its best wishes to the Independent and trusts that it has before it a long and prosperous career.

The Oregon towns especially have responded nobly to Heppner's appeal for aid. Pendleton raised a fund of $3,500 for the sufferers, while the La Grande people made up a purse of $2,400. Portland gave up $11,000 in cash besides a large quantity of provisions and clothing and 200 coffins to bury the dead.

EDITOR CAMPBELL of the Somerset (Ky.) Journal gives the following recipe for killing a town: "Oppose improvements. Trade somewhere else. Ask two prices for your property. Don't subscribe for your home paper, but borrow it. Criticize everything you are interested in."

It appears to worry the republican editors that the democrats do not set up candidate for their opponents to throw stones at, a year in advance of the nominating convention.—Olympia Standard.

Washington Letter.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington D. C. June 13, 1903.

Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow's reply to the Tulloch charges has finally been given to the press and it is hardly surprising that Postmaster General Payne was reluctant to make the report public. It demonstrates beyond peradventure that during the regime of Postmaster General Smith and First Assistant Heath the utmost corruption prevailed in the Postoffice Department and in the Washington postoffice, which was used as a sort of asylum for the personal friends and proteges of Hanna, Heath and others. In his letter to Payne, Bristow says that as long ago as 1900 Beavers warned him against any investigation of Heath's actions, and further warned him that certain appointments noted as irregular were the personal actions of Postmaster General Smith. Bristow further says at the time he called attention of Postmaster General Smith to "certain glaring irregularities" which he believed called for immediate correction. Of course Smith made no move to correct them. Notwithstanding these facts, Beavers has been permitted to remain in the service until a month or two ago.

It is further shown that one O. H. Smith, a personal friend of Perry Heath, from Indiana, was illegally appointed, that he drew several salaries simultaneously for services which it would have been impossible for him to perform at the same time, that he was paid exorbitant expense accounts contrary to law, when he was for a considerable period absent from Washington participating in the Indiana campaign. This same Smith is still in the service and is mentioned in Civil Service Commissioner

Proctor's report as holding his present position illegally, and as drawing the salary of finance clerk when he is actually in charge of laborers. According to Postmaster General Payne the abuses reported at that time were corrected by Postmaster General Smith. An instance of Smith's methods of correction is found in the case of eight "charwomen" whom the inspectors found were performing no services but were drawing aggregate salaries of $3,000 a year. Postmaster General Smith corrects this abuse by writing the postmaster at Washington that these women were regularly appointed and it was the postmaster's business to find employment for them. This, notwithstanding the fact, as shown by Commissioner Proctor, that so many unnecessary employees were forced on the Washington postmaster that it was impossible for him to find work for all. Another instance is given in the case of E. O. Fowler who was unable to perform any satisfactory service but who was appointed assistant to the timekeeper, who needed no assistant, at a salary of $1,700 a year although the timekeeper himself received but $1,000 a year. These are but a few examples of several hundred similar cases reported.

The President has filled two vacancies in the Civil Service Commission last week. He has appointed Alvord W. Cooley, of New York, vice William Dudley Foulkes, resigned, and Harry F. Green, of Minnesota, vice James R. Garfield, who resigned to take the position of chief of the bureau of corporations in the Department of Commerce and Labor.

It is evident that there will be serious curtailment of the land settlement acts at the next session of Congress. President Roosevelt urged a revision of the land laws in his last message to Congress and a bill making several modifications was introduced but never passed. It is now shown that a large portion of the land which will be benefited by Federal irrigation has been taken up by speculators. Senator Gibson, of Montana, estimates that in his State alone 2,500,000 acres have been taken up during the past year under the Stone and Timber Act, without adding a single agriculturist to the population of the state. The President has said that the laws should be made so stringent as to prevent the acquisition of land by any but actual homesteaders and that if this is not done the entire purpose of Federal irrigation will be defeated. That there will be a thorough revision of the land laws next winter is the confident prediction of those in a position to know.

As if inspired by the reports of bribery in the Postoffice Department, a New York state banker has gotten into trouble by trying to bribe Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Taylor. It appears that the Government advertised for a site for a postoffice at Cornish, New York. George E. Eaton, cashier of the Van-Denning Bank, submitted a piece of property for which he asked $15,000, the amount appropriated by Congress. He then wrote a letter to Secretary Taylor which excited the latter's suspicions and a decoy letter was sent in reply. This brought an open proposition from Eaton who said that his lot had cost him $13,000 and he was willing to divide the $2,000 profit evenly with the Secretary if the latter would select his site. Eaton was promptly arrested and is now out on bail. The maximum penalty in his case is $3,000 fine and one year's imprisonment.

It is announced today that John T. Waterbury, president of the Manhattan Trust Company of New York, has been selected by Secretary Cortelyou and appointed by the President as the American delegate to the wireless telegraphy conference to be held in Berlin on August 4, 1903.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional remedy. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. The accident happened near Alfalfa siding while Mr. Williams was returning hurriedly on horseback from his Sunnyside ranch. The horse stepped into a badger hole with the result that he turned a complete somersault and so probably did the rider before reaching terra firma. To make matters worse, during the mid-air performance Mr. Williams' back came in contact with one of the sharp hoofs of the horse, inflicting a painful bruise. The unfortunate rider also received some slight bruises about the face. He feels thankful, however, that he escaped with his life.

CITIZENS' SCHOOL MEETING

Special Election to be Called to Vote on Bond Issue.

In pursuance to a call by the board of directors of school district No. 7 a well attended public meeting was held at the Central school Saturday evening to consider the matter of providing additional school room for the ensuing year. Chairman Cannon of the school board presided over the meeting and Clerk Hough acted as secretary. The meeting was addressed at some length by Messrs. Cannon, Barge and Nichols of the board, on the needs of the city in the way of additional buildings, and on the present financial status of the district.

H. M. Gilbert and S. J. Cameron spoke of the necessity of securing a site and erecting a new school house somewhere on the bench toward Nob Hill. In this position they were seconded by B. F. Barge and others. W. W. Robertson thought that it would be better to build a large annex to the present Columbia building. There was quite an argument over the matter.

County Superintendent Dickey, Treasurer Peck, R. K. Nichols and C. E. Lum discussed the financial phase of the matter. All apparently agreed that under the last assessment the district would have something less than $30,000 to do business on in regard to building new school houses.

H. M. Gilbert introduced a written resolution which advocated the building of an eight room building on Naches avenue and a four room house on Nob Hill and a two room addition to the Columbia building. A dispute over parliamentary points then arose and Chairman Cannon ruled the resolution out of order.

A motion made by Medill was put through authorizing the board to call a special election to vote bonds for the construction of a four room building on a site to be selected on the bench below Nob Hill, also either for the construction of a four room annex to the Columbia or a separate four room building on the Columbia school site, whichever plan the board may deem wise to pursue. E. G. Peck supplemented this with a motion placing the amount of bonds to be voted upon at $22,000, which when sold the proceeds thereof should be used to purchase a site on Nob Hill and build and equip the two school houses. This motion prevailed after which the meeting adjourned.

Constipated Bowels.

To have good health, the body should be kept in a laxative condition and the bowels moved once a day, so that all the poisonous wastes are expelled daily. Mr. G. L. Edwards, 142 N.
