Mr. Norman S. Meese:

Dear Mr. Meese:

I am sending you an advance circular of my book
Drummers and Dreamers for which the publisher is scheduling an early spring publication.

In a former communication you asked to be advised concerning this book for acquisition for your library.

I did not know how to interpret the reference.

If reviews are handled, would you kindly advise me so I may enter your name and correct address on my review list to be sent to the publisher.

If a library purchase is desired, your library would be entitled to a 25 per cent discount. If such is desired, the enclosed could be returned to me and it will be mailed according to instructions, next spring by the publisher.

I hope you will understand my position and inability at providing presentation copies. But, because of the Indian situation covered in the book, and the human story concerning this remnant race, I hope you will be able to acquire a copy of the book in one of the manners above suggested.

Most Sincerely Click Relander
