

Gallaudet College,
Kendall Green,
Washington, D.C.,
May 19, 1934.

Mr. Angus C. Davis,
President of the Rotary Club,
Yakima High School,
Yakima, Washington.

My dear Mr. Davis:

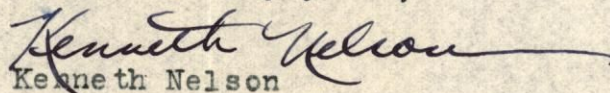

Sometime ago I wrote asking you if the Rotary Club in Yakima, Washington, had been in the habit of assisting the home town college needy students with money loans which presumably fit their need. A good many college struggling students are relieved of financial straits when the Rotary Club, a strong advocate of higher learning for young men, helps loan them. My brother, Mr. Ivan Nelson, High School principal in Wapato, Washington, a neighboring town to Yakima, believes that you can make the special arrangement to loan me one hundred dollars ($100.00) in the fall when I return to school. I have one more year to study for my Bachelor's degree. Gallaudet College where I am now matriculating, is the only institution of its kind in the academic world.

My home in Granger, Washington, has been broken up with the unexpected passing of my father, Mr. Oscar Nelson last summer. My mother had died several years before. My father was very active in Yakima County school affairs. I have my elder brother, Mr. Paul Nelson who is coaching track in Ellensburg High School.

I have written to Mr. Ivan Nelson to drop in and call you some time.

Thanking you for all you can to help me, I remain,

Very cordially yours,

Kenneth Nelson